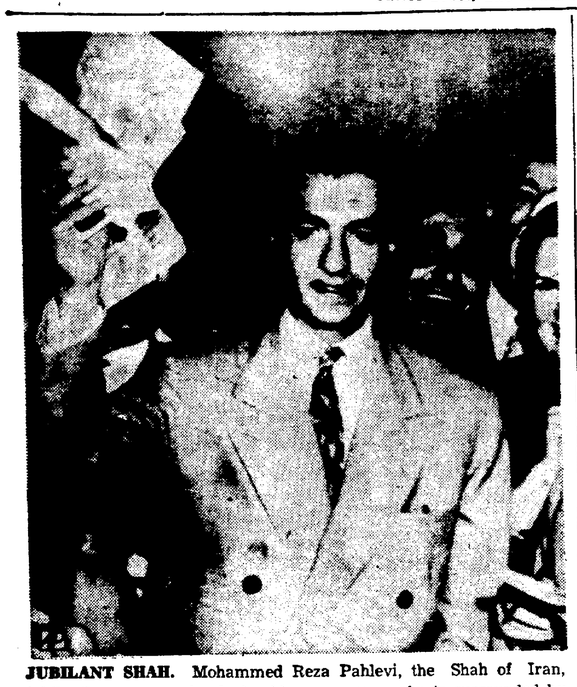
French Non-Red Workers Start Slow Return to Jobs



JUBILANT SHAH. Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, the Shah of Iran, jubilantly waves a sheaf of cable messages as he is surrounded by admirers in his Rome, Italy, hotel. He now in flying back to the capital city of Tehran where Royalists have ousted the government of Mohammed Mossadegh.

Royal Welcome Planned

Happy Shah Begins Flight Back to Iran

ROME (AP) — Triumphantly smiling Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, Shah of Iran, flew homeward today for a royal welcome in the explosive country he fled five days ago.

Awaiting him in his land of carpets, caviar and oil were a new Premier loyal to the monarchy, jubilant crowds cheering their 33-year-old ruler and a panama-clad prisoner under heavy guard—shaky old ex-Premier Mohammed Mossadegh.

Rome's Iranian colony and legation, which turned its back on the Shah's arrival as a fugitive Monday with 20-year-old Queen Soraya, came out in force to cheer his departure by plane early today.

In a chartered Royal Dutch (KLM) airliner, the Shah and a party of officials and newsmen headed for Baghdad, capital of his own country's next-door neighbor, Iraq.

Will Lunch With Faisal

The young monarch planned to lunch early this afternoon with Iraq's King Faisal, then perhaps fly on to Tehran later today.

Queen Soraya, exhausted and upset by the week's excitement, remained in Rome to rest up.

Also left behind was the Shah's strong-willed twin sister, Princess Ashraf. Mossadegh had exiled her because she fought his encroachments on the royal power. She hurried from the Riviera to her brother's side yesterday. Last night she told newsmen she might drop in on Tehran later for a visit.

Baghdad had been the Shah's first haven Sunday after Mossadegh's armed forces foiled the attempt of palace guards to enforce a royal decree naming Maj. Gen. Fazollah Zahedi premier.

Fleeing to Iraq in his own plane, the Shah and his wife went on to Rome Monday by British airliner. He dashed homeward almost as hurriedly after Iran's masses and its army rallied to Zahedi and their ruler's standard and drove Mossadegh from his heavily-fortified home Wednesday. Three hundred or more died in the fighting.

Arrested in Pajamas

The weepy-eyed old Premier, who drove the British out of his nation's vast oilfields and then tried so hard to clip his ruler's power, surrendered yesterday to Zahedi at his headquarters in the Central Tehran Officers Club. Weak and limping, he still had on his habitual pink pajamas.

His future was uncertain. Zahedi, in a "give yourself up" broadcast 12 hours earlier, had said, "We will

Gov. Lausche Appoints New Highway Unit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche today named a new state highway construction council to build modern arterial roads throughout Ohio.

They are: Wilbur M. Cotton, director of community relations with National Cash Register Co., Dayton; Clingan Jackson political editor for the Youngstown Vindicator and former state senator, and Jesse E. VanFossen, Croton, manager and secretary of the Ohio Hybrid Seed Corn Products.

The 100th General Assembly created the council to supervise construction of inter-urban highways from new taxes on trucks and gasoline.

The Senate refused to confirm three previous appointees on final adjournment day Aug. 7. That made new appointments necessary.

Lausche's office released the new appointments while the governor was in Cleveland for a meeting in connection with Ohio's sesquicentennial observance.

The new council members will receive $50 a day and expenses for the time they actually work.

The Republican-controlled Legislature created the council as a key unit in a multi-million dollar highway construction program. The council will classify roads, fix priorities and release construction funds.

Money under council control will come from a penny-a-gallon increase in gasoline taxes and a

Driver Dies In Accident Near Marion

Russell Stansbery, 21, Of Upper Sandusky Is County's 13th Victim

Russell E. Stansbery, of Upper Sandusky, was killed in a one-car crash on U. S. Route 23, four and six-tenths miles north of Marion about 2:30 a.m. today.

Marion County's total traffic fatality list shows 13 persons have been killed so far this year.

Stansbery was thrown some 60 feet into a field when his car skidded off the right side of the roadway on a curve, went out of control and crashed off the left side of the pavement, tearing down 30 feet of guard rail and three posts. Marion County Coroner, Dr. E. H. Morgan, said Stansbery's death was caused by a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Not Discovered

The accident was not discovered by nearby residents and reported to the highway patrol post here until 4:05 a.m., about an hour and a half after the crash. Patrolmen said Stansbery's watch had stopped at 2:35 a.m., apparently the time when he was thrown from his car. Witnesses said they noticed the wrecked car along the side of the highway, but they could see no one around upon first investigation. Stansbery was found lying some 60 feet north of the accident scene in a field. His car was completely demolished.

Russell Earl Stansbery was born Oct. 28, 1931, to Marion and Anna Marie Manhart Stansbery, who reside in Upper Sandusky.

Sisters, Brothers Survive

Surviving in addition to his parents are two sisters, Mrs. John G. Swartz and Mrs. William Beard of Upper Sandusky; and two brothers, Harvey B. Stansbery of Marseilles and Robert R. Stansbery of Upper Sandusky.

He was a member of the Eagles Lodge in Upper Sandusky and was a veteran of the Korean war.

Funeral services will be held Monday, at 2 p.m. at the Bringman and Co. Funeral Home in Upper Sandusky, the Rev. Paul D. Rhoebaugh officiating. Burial will be at Oakhill Cemetery. Friends may call after 10 a.m. Sunday at the funeral home until time of services on Monday.

Kenton Children Hurt

Two Kenton children were taken to the Marion City Hospital from a car-truck collision on U. S. 30-S yesterday afternoon.

The children, Bruce Stevens, 6, and Sandra Stevens, 9, were treated at the hospital after the car in which they were passengers was rammed from the rear by a tractor and trailer truck outfit on U. S. 30-S, five miles west of Route 203, at 2:05 p.m. Thursday.

State patrolmen said the car was driven by Gladys Clawson, 30, of Kenton, who was going west. Driver of the truck was Norman

Four Represent County Area on Hospital Board

Appointment of four Marion County residents to serve on the Board of Governors of the Marion General Hospital now under construction was made Thursday afternoon by Marion County commissioners.

Named as the county's representatives were Dr. Richard A. Dietrich of LaRue, Mrs. Mary Axthelm of Caledonia, Leon M. McCorkle of Waldo, and Felix C. Reber of near Marion.

Four Marion men, to represent the city, were appointed by Mayor Harold F. Robinson and approved by City Council July 27. They are Dr. M. M. Weinbaum, Harold J. Grigsby, John W. Watters and Ellis H. Oiler.

County commissioners made their selection after "careful consideration" of many names, Ray Reidenbaugh, chairman, reported.

The eight board members will supervise operation of the hospital. Hospital commissioners, responsible only for the construction of the building, urged early formation of the board so that a hospital administrator can be appointed in the near future.

THOMAS TALKS RIGHT BACK. Thomas, a 70-pound African monkey, chatters something in monkey language to SPCA agent Carl Lee after a brief, wild life of freedom in Philadelphia during which the monkey behaved like a grocery store robber, dodging 16 red car policemen; escaped from a locked cage; rapped the SPCA agent over the head with a piece of pipe; escaped again; led agents and police on a several-hour, several-mile chase. Lee had the last word —he caught the monkey and locked him up again.

First Break In Paralyzing Strikes Made

2 Unions and Premier Reach Agreement, but Many Still Remain Idle

PARIS (AP)—Non-Communist unions ordered thousands of workers back to their jobs today—the first break in the wave of strikes that has strangled France for 16 days.

But the back-to-work trek was slow. Unions were meeting all over France to discuss the terms of settlement.

The Socialist Workers' Force (FO) and the Christian Labor Federation (CFTC) reached agreement with Premier Joseph Laniel's government early today for postal, telegraph and telephone workers to end their strike. Other government workers were expected to join the back-to-work movement.

Phones Still Out

But attempts to put in telephone calls to other cities in France still were fruitless this afternoon. The communications services were not expected to be back to normal before Monday in any case.

On other strike fronts there was little perceptible change. Only a few railroad trains were running, though Socialists and Catholics ordered their rail men back to work.

The Paris subway and bus system were still partially paralyzed.

Coal mines were still idle.

Furthermore, a 48-hour strike of metal workers called by non-Communist unions began today. Thousands of workers were reported idle at steel mills and other factories in the nation.

But the management at the big Renault automobile plant in Paris said only 2,000 of its 16,000 workers failed to show up.

Government Promises

The government was reported to have promised the postal, telephone and telegraph strikers:

1. To call into session before Sept. 30 a commission to consider a general upward revision of French wages.

2. To take no sanctions against strikers.

3. To consult the unions before putting into effect Laniel's proposed economy decrees upping retirement age limits and cutting other benefits.

These decrees were the original cause of the strike. The strikers later added demands for wage increases and bonuses.

The settlement was expected to

Y Dedication To Be Sept. 13, Moving Sept. 1

Sunday, Sept. 13 has been set as the date for the official dedication of the new YMCA building on E. Church St., directors of the association announced today.

The present building on S. State St. will be closed Sept. 1 after more than 60 years of continuous operations. On that date the moving project into the new structure will be started.

Main speaker for the dedication ceremony, scheduled for 2 p.m., will be Dr. Arthur Flemming, former president of Ohio Wesleyan University, who currently is serving as chief of defense mobilization.

Ralph Carhart is chairman of the dedication committee and will announce the complete program in the near future.

Arthur Haas, general secretary of the Marion Y, said a week-long period would be set aside for an open-house observance. Visitors will be conducted through the new building for a week following the dedication.

The new building will be "open for business" on Sept. 21.

AEC Chief Speaks

Warning of Enemy Atom Threat Given

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) says "It is idle to assume that it is beyond the capabilities of our potential enemies to develop atomic weapons with a tremendously destructive capacity."

"It is also a fallacy," he said, "to assume that a stockpile of atomic weapons in our hands is in itself any longer a complete deterrent to aggressive action."

Strauss made the statements in a letter to Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) dated Aug. 19 and evidently written a few hours before Moscow announced that a type of hydrogen bomb had been exploded in a Soviet experiment.

The AEC chairman shortly thereafter issued a statement confirming that U.S. monitors had detected an atomic explosion in the Soviet, on Aug. 12, and that it included "thermonuclear" reactions —the scientific name for the hydrogen fusion process.

His letter, made public today by Wiley, came as members of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee who could get here were assembling for a closed session to discuss "current events."

Obviously, the latest Soviet atomic development was the big item on the agenda. Asked to brief committee members were officials of Strauss' commission and of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

It seemed doubtful that there would be much elaboration, for the public, on Strauss' statement of early yesterday, which said the United States had produced in 1951 and 1952 atomic tests the same sort of reaction detected in the Aug. 12 Soviet blast.

Fliers Owe Lives To Brave Woman

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—Two Air Force pilots from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base owe their lives to the quick thinking and bravery of a 130-pound housewife.

When their plane crashed and burned on a farm near here today, Mrs. Genevieve Zimmerman, 40, ran to the wreckage, slid back the plexiglass cover of the cowl and pulled one man from the burning craft.

A few minutes later her daughter, Darlene, 18, and three men broke the cowl, which was jammed, and pulled the second man from the plane.

The two airmen, Capt. John H. Saxon, 30, and Capt. Hubert G. Pedersen, 36, instructor pilots at Wright - Patterson, escaped with only minor cuts and shock.

Inmate Killed, Three Injured In Prison Riot

300 Go on Rampage In Washington; Five Buildings Destroyed

MONROE, Wash. (AP) — Three-hundred inmates of the Washington State Reformatory last night went on a destructive spree that ended hours later with one man dead, three injured and five of the institution's sprawling buildings destroyed by fire.

Half of the rioters were in a cell block, the others on the grounds in the center of the buildings they had set torch to in a sudden outbreak of frenzied viciousness.

The rioters struck without warning during the evening recreation period. One group took over one of the reformatory's two large cell blocks and the other ran through the grounds setting fire to the buildings surrounding the recreation area.

Three-hundred other prisoners took no part in the uprising.

Guards at first made no effort to stop the stone-throwing, bat-hurling, cursing, howling convicts. The Monroe volunteer fire department was called and was inside the walls within minutes. But they were driven back by stones and bats.

Other fire equipment arrived but none ever got inside the walls despite the hundreds of peace officers who came from all over western Washington, including Seattle, 20 miles to the southwest.

No attempt was made by the convicts to communicate with Warden P. J. Squier or other officials—except to hurl taunts, im-

India's Peace Talk Proposal Studied in U.N.

Some Believe Plan Would Give Red China, N. Korea Veto Power

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United Nations today studied a new Indian proposal for the Korean peace conference. Some delegates said it would give Communist China and North Korea a veto over the world organization's choices for the parley lineup.

The new Indian move coincided with a step up by the United States in its drive to keep India out of the negotiations. U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. announced he would vote against inviting India to the conference table.

The General Assembly's 60-nation Political Committee meanwhile kept up its efforts to pick a slate of representatives to sit at the conference. Committee Chairman Joao Carlos Muniz of Brazil said if the delegates didn't hurry up, they couldn't finish by next week.

Provisions of Resolution

The Indian resolution proposed that U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold communicate the Assembly decisions to the North Korean and Peiping regimes "and report to the General Assembly as appropriate."

Indian Delegate V. K. Krishna Menon said it was purely procedural, but U. S. delegates thought they saw a gimmick in it. They said it would require careful study.

A member of the Indian delegation said privately that the resolution would give the Communist combatants a chance to comment on the U. N. decisions, and pos-

150 Americans in Group

Prisoners Shout, Dance On Returning to Freedom

PANMUNJOM (AP) — A rollicking 150 Americans, the largest single-day delivery yet in the Korean War prisoner exchange, rode out of Red captivity at this wayside village today.

Eager as youngsters, they shouted and danced as they were freed with 300 South Koreans.

The Americans were from Camp 1 at Chongsong on the Yalu River, the Red stockade for "incorrigibles" who actively resisted Communism.

The repatriates said the first group of Americans from a fourth Red prison—Camp 9 Kanggye—arrived Thursday night at Kaesong, the Red clearing site just north of Panmunjom.

Other Camps First

All other American POWs sent back have been from Camps 1,3 and 5, including some men transferred to these camps from other stockades.

Saturday's shipment was expected to include some Camp 9 prisoners, a number of whom were reported only recently captured.

The Reds said Saturday's delivery would include 94 Americans—30 of them sick or wounded—300 South Koreans, 23 British, 13 Canadians, 3 Australians, 2 French, 1 Turk and 1 Colombian.

Three Canadians, 2 British, 1 Australian and the Turk were listed as sick or wounded.

The 150 Americans returned Thursday brought the total to 1,465 of the 3,313 the Reds said they held. In all, 6,983 Allied prisoners have been returned of the 12,763 listed by the Communists.

No Reds Sent Home

No Communist POWs were sent north Friday for the second straight day, but more were scheduled to be handed over Saturday. Typhoon winds earlier in the week halted shipments from the Allied island prison camps off Southern Korea.

The Americans returning Friday were in high spirits, but they also

Main business of the fair on opening day will be the final preparation of booths and exhibits. Judging of livestock, the main attraction of any fair, begins Monday morning.

A full schedule of activities has been planned by members of the Marion County Agricultural Society, commonly known as the fair board. Harness racing starts at 8 p.m. Saturday. The trotters will also appear on Monday and Tuesday evenings.

Ohio's Sesquicentennial celebration will be observed at this year's fair. Crowning the sesqui plans will be the appearance of Miss Janet Bailey of Akron, Miss Ohio for 1953. She will be at the fairgrounds Wednesday.

Displays Set Up

Business firms in the Marion area will also participate in the 150th anniversary celebration. Booths and displays are being set up by various companies highlighting the progress of their firms or their special types of products from the beginning of operations.

A baton twirling contest starting at noon will be the kickoff of tomorrow's activities. The contestants will compete until about 4 p.m. for 37 trophies.

By 6 p.m., all exhibits will be set up. Entrants who fail to meet the deadline may forfeit their places or their entries.

Sunday morning at 11 all activity on the midway will cease while special church services, which have been arranged by the fair board, are held! These services will consist of a sermon by the Rev. Gradually Catching Up

Russia Following Path Of U.S. in Atomic Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia is following closely in the path of the United States, if not actually catching up, in the race for mastery of atomic weapons.

It may or may not some day overtake this country in the number of stockpiled weapons, but the point is relatively unimportant, in the opinion of many experts.

For the time will come, these authorities believe, when the Soviet Union will have at its disposal enough bombs to pose an extremely dangerous threat to American security—regardless of how many bombs the United States may then possess.

Even now, said Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) in a letter made public today, it is "a fallacy to assume that a stockpile of atomic weapons in our own hands is in itself any longer a complete deterrent to aggressive action."

Progress Significant

Officials here said the measure of Soviet progress in the drive for greater and greater military power is one of the more significant aspects of Moscow's announcement that a type of hydrogen bomb had been exploded. The announcement was followed by a statement from Strauss that an explosion involving "thermonuclear" or hydrogen fusion reaction had occured in the Soviet Aug. 12.

It was not an unforeseen development. Soviet Prime Minister Malenkov had declared on Aug. 8 that the United States no longer had a monopoly on the hydrogen bomb.

The fact that the explosion came off, and that Moscow's report of it was supported by outside observation, marks a new stage in Russia's progress. Also, it introduces into policy calculations of governments all over the world a hard new fact—that the Soviet Union may be whittling down the margin of atomic superiority which the free nations in years past have worn like a shield

Harding, St. Mary Start Grid Practice

Coaches Must Build Teams in Three Weeks

St. Mary and Harding High School gridders began football practice Thursday under the watchful eyes of Coaches Ray Robbins and Pete Howison in preparation for their season openers.

A total of 40 gridders reported to St. Mary's first practice session at the athletic field on E. Farming St. and 60 Harding gridders greeted Coach Howison at the stadium.

Both teams have enough returning lettermen for a veteran first squad but are thin in reserve strength. Coaches Robbins and Howison were impressed by the weight some of their boys put on over the summer.

Prexies Play Nine

Coach Howison is busy prepping his boys for their first game less than a month away. The Prexies open a nine-game schedule Sept. 18 at Columbus West.

However, St. Mary's first taste of action comes a week sooner. Robbins is preparing his Irish for the annual preview Sept. 11 at Fostoria. Their actual schedule is opened on Sept. 19 against Cardington here.

St. Mary and Harding hopefuls reported for physical examinations the first part of this week and were issued equipment. The gridders are practicing twice daily until school begins.

Harding has 13 lettermen back from last year's club, five seniors and eight juniors. Howison opens the season with a new crew of assistants. Jim Lawler, former Vernon Junior High School coach and now cage mentor at Harding, is handling the backs. Al Beach, former All-Ohio star from Harding, is in his first year with the Harding staff and will be in charge of the centers and guards. Drilling the ends will be Lou Ralston and Don Kay.

Irish in New League

Ninny Irvin is assisting Coach Robbins with the Irish squad, which will be operating in a new high school league this year, both in football and basketball. St. Mary will compete with Elm Valley, Cardington, Mt. Gilead and Richwood in the Mid-Ohio Conference, formed last winter by representatives of Class B schools in this area.

After Harding's opener with Columbus West, Bowling Green is here Sept. 25. The remainder of the schedule is: Oct. 2, at Tiffin Columbian; Oct. 9, Fostoria; Oct. 16, Columbus Central; Oct. 22 ,at Findlay; Oct. 29, at Ashland; Nov. 6, Fremont; and Nov. 13, at Sandusky.

The Bowling Green, Tiffin, Fostoria, Findlay and Fremont games are Buckeye League tilts.

St. Mary's schedule is: Sept. 11, annual preview at Fostoria; Sept. 19, Cardington; Sept. 26, Lima St. Rose; Oct. 3, Mt. Gilead; Oct. 9, open; Oct. 16, at Columbus St. Mary; Oct. 24, Richwood; Oct. 30, at Carey; Nov. 7, Mansfield Madison; Nov. 13, at Elm Valley.

The Irish five home games are all booked for Saturday nights.

48 Candidates Out For Galion Grid Practice

GALION—Football practice twice daily until the opening of the fall school term was launched by the Galion High School Tigers Thursday. There were 48 boys out for the squad. Only four are seniors. Thirteen are juniors, 15 sopomores, and 16 are freshmen.

The first session, at 8 a.m., Thursday, was comprised of wind sprints and general conditioning exercises, ball handling, throwing and kicking.

The Tigers open the season Sept. 18 with Tiffin Calvert here.

Prior to the first practice sessions, there was a meeting Wednesday night with parents. The coaches discussed training rules and football policy. Coach Dick Kerin equipped one player in uniform to demonstrate protection afforded grid players.

Seven lettermen are back this year. They are Ed Herr, Tom Quay, Don Hathaway, Tubby Garverick, Glenn Scherer, Chet Forraker, Bob Johnson, Paul Morales.

Nine players were lost last year by graduation. A big loss to the team this year is Dick Hottenroth, 212 center, two-year letterman, who underwent surgery Thursday in Galion City Hospital.

Urbana Horse Wins Yonkers Feature

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP)—Pronto Don, the biggest money winning trotter of all time, with $255,236, heads a field of eight in the Putnam at Yonkers Raceway tonight But if he wins, Don will add something less than $10,000 to his earnings.

The big money race of the week at the course was last night's Yonkers pacing derby, worth $25,600, and won by Wilmington's Star. The winner was caught in 3:06. This clipped two seconds from the track record for a mile and a half.

The time was only two-fifths of a second off the world mark set July 30 by Chuck Volo in winning the $50,000 Nassau Pace at Roosevelt Raceway.

Wilmington's Star, owned by R. L. Craig of Urbana, Ohio, was well up in the 12-horse field during the entire distance, and passed the pace-setting Thomas B. Scott in the final surge from the top of the stretch.

Question Is 'Who's Third?'

Yanks and Bums Have League Titles Sewed Up

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

The race for final positions in the major league standings appears to be all over in both circuits except to find out who's going to finish third.

Although there are still five weeks to play it's mostly just a question of waiting for the World Series—for Brooklyn and the New York Yankees—and for next year.

The third place races, however, are close in both leagues. Cleveland holds third in the American League by only half a game over the Boston Red Sox. St. Louis has a game edge on Philadelphia in the National.

To an individual player it is worth about twice as much to be a member of a third place finisher instead of with a fourth place club. The players on the first four clubs share in World Series' receipts.

Except for the third place battles at least six games separate the clubs in their present positions in the National League. Only seven games divide the last place St. Louis Browns from the sixth place Athletics in the American League, with Detroit sandwiched in between. But none of these clubs has shown any indication that it will improve greatly or collapse between now and the end of the season.

The league leading Dodgers and Yankees each have a nine game edge. Brooklyn has 36 games to play, New York 35.

In yesterday's curtailed activity the Dodgers thumped the New York Giants 10-0; St. Louis defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-3 and Pittsburgh beat Philadelphia 5-2 in the National League. The Yankees whipped Washington 7-0 and Cleveland bounced Detroit 13-7 in the American.

Carl Erskine, Brooklyn's biggest winner, posted his 15th victory of the season and his second straight four-hit shutout over the stumbling Giants. One of the league's best pitchers when he has his control, Erskine didn't walk a man and struck out six. Junior Gilliam, Jackie Robinson and Bobby Morgan hit home runs.

Robin Roberts fell victim to Philadelphia's sieve-like defense as he failed for the second time to win his 21st game. The Phillies committed four errors and four of the Pirates' five runs were unearned. The loss was Roberts' 10th.

Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell doubled home the winning runs in a sixth inning rally as he hung up his 11th victory for St. Louis. He gave up seven Chicago hits but needed help from Gerry Staley to get the last out in the ninth.

The Yankees bombarded Bob Porterfield, the league's shutout leader, for seven runs in the fourth inning and broke his five game winning streak. Porterfield, who once toiled for the New Yorkers, has been beaten 10 times this season, five times by the Yankees. Eddie Lopat, won his 11th straight against Washington dating back to June 26, 1951.

Sympathy for Iran

Apparently the Iranian revolt, counter-revolt, or whatever it should be called is going to run its course without ideological confusion.

That is as it should be.

If freedom is involved in the shooting and rolling of heads in Tehran, no one seems inclined to look for it. The obvious issue is oil.

Iran needs no oil for itself. It has no battleships, no airplanes, no tanks, trucks, fire bombs, or hungry hordes of automobiles. But it has the world's largest refinery and one of the world's richest oil fields.

Along with the income which this vital natural resource has brought to key Iranian figures, be they royalists or commoners, is the headache that goes with power politics. The little men who nominally run the little country of Iran are at the mercy of some very large men who direct the grand strategy of the struggle for Iranian oil.

Iran is entitled to sympathy as it buries its latest dead and awaits the next skirmish in the battle over its oil. It will have no peace.

Marx at Zero Degrees

One of the experiences of his imprisonment in North Korea related by Frank Noel, the Associated Press photographer, was listening to involuntary readings from the writings of Karl Marx.

The readers were officers among the prisoners. Noel relates that the listeners would put down their ear flaps in cold weather, until the Reds became aware of the insult and order the flaps kept up.

It wouldn't have mattered whether they were up or down. The writings of Karl Marx are meaningless to Americans. They are equally meaningless to Asiatics, though for another reason.

Americans find nothing in Marx's observations that squares with the truth as they know it as members of their kind of an industrial society. Everything he wrote has been as obsolete for the last third of a century as a tract on the maintenance of ox carts.

In the United States, industrialism has developed a classless society. Its characteristics are so new that some of them are still uncatalogued, though Fortune Magazine is now filling in the void with a series of exploratory articles.

In most parts of Asia, on the other hand, industrialism has had no chance to create anything — not even the raw injustices which shocked Karl Marx when he discovered them as a young intellectual in England 100 years ago.

The fanaticism fed by the empire builders of the Kremlin can be cruel, savage and it can be insane. Making Americans and Asiatics listen to the rantings of a German economic theorist who used the wrong evidence to reach a wrong conclusion 100 years ago is typical of the distortion which now passes for logic among hundreds of millions of human beings.

Without Compassion

On almost any given day there is at least one instance in the news of incredible cruelty to helpless children.

The stories tend to follow the same pattern—emotionally unstable adults venting spiteful cruelty on small children who fail to meet the adults' irrational requirements for proper behavior.

One beating follows another until there finally has evolved a state of savagery which makes the inhumanity of man to man at the adult level seem mild by comparison. Frequently, the final act of savagery brings death.

It is the kind of cruelty which sometimes occurs in man's treatment of beasts — the kind which caused the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Whenever it comes to light and decent men and women shudder anew at a fresh glimpse of life without compassion, the same doubt must cross every reasonable mind:

Are we really making progress, or is man's inhumanity to man growing worse

Survival of the Republic

Fully as important as the study of economic policy in foreign trade which will be guided by Clarence B. Randall is the study of federal-state problems which will be guided by Clarence E. Manion, former dean of the Notre Dame Law School.

President Eisenhower, in calling on men of this caliber to provide a background of knowledge for public policy, is bringing the full force of the republic to bear on the problems of its survival.

Men like Mr. Randall and Dean Manion command respect. The importance of their jobs has been emphasized by recent events in France, where a once good society is running down for lack of vitality and interest. The United States has no guarantee of survival. It has only as much hope of survival as can be justified by the intelligence it can bring to bear on its problems.

The prospect has been brightened by the knowledge that men like the chairman of the board of Inland Steel Co. and the widely known and well loved Dean Manion will be hard at work behind the scenes.

Abuses Feared in Executive Control Over Contracts

Can the executive branch of the government circumvent the will of Congress and, by means of a national commission or committee on employment practices, introduce a system that discriminates at will in the award of government contracts as between private companies irrespective of which one is the lowest bidder?

This is the issue which soon will be presented to the country if first reports concerning the purposes of the committee of 15 members appointed by President Eisenhower prove to be correct.

It is stated that the President has given his "full, personal and moral support" to a program whereby the new committee is to see to it that no government contracts shall be awarded to private companies which do not agree to make their employment practices conform to those set forth by the new committee.

It will be recalled that Congress has for years wrestled with the proposal to create a national Fair Employment Practices Commission but a powerful minority has again and again filibustered against the passage of the measure.

In the presidential campaign of 1952, Mr. Eisenhower expressed himself as not in favor of a "compulsory" FEPC and extolled the virtues of a "voluntary" plan.

The new committee, however, starts out as if it were going to use the government's contracting power on a compulsory basis.

Vice President Nixon, who is to be chairman of the committee, has been quoted as saying that "Since the government spends annually on government contracts 40 billion dollars, or one-fourth of all the United States, we can deal with 25 per cent of the problem because we control the purse strings ... Where public funds are involved, all segments of the population should enjoy the benefits."

This concept, if taken literally, could mean that the federal government has the right, because it purchases goods from private companies, to regulate the employment practices of those companies.

While such a power might in some cases have a worthy objective in seeking to eliminate racial or religious bias, it could also be construed as a right to regulate an industry's entire employment practices so as to make them acceptable to the federal government.

It could mean that, if an executive department so willed it, the right to strike could be prohibited on any job or contract which the federal government awarded.

It could mean that employers would be required to hire proportionate numbers from each of the different religions and sect so that "all segments of the population should enjoy the benefits."

There is no limit to the abuse of power once the principle is granted that the purse strings control everything and that the executive branch may virtually assert legislative power over one-fourth of the nation's production.

Supreme Court decisions in the past have generally upheld the right of the federal government to do business with whom it pleases and to set forth specifications for the products to be bought and other conditions germane to the production of the goods.

It is doubtful whether, under the Constitution, the executive branch can by indirection enact legislation which the Congress itself has refused to enact.

If the President had appointed a committee to expose and emphasize bias in hiring, the publicity achieved would have been a legitimate aim from an educational standpoint.

Social pressures result usually from a full disclosure of the facts of injustice. But for the executive branch of the government to decide that, for political or social or any other reasons, it will not award contracts to a low bidder but only to a bidder who has satisfied the requirements of a sociological nature, will mean more rather than less cleavages in the nation hereafter.

It was under the New Deal that the concept was born which held that in government the end always justifies the means and hence that, if Congress didn't see fit to pass a law, it was proper for the executive branch to enact that law by means of executive order of regulation.

The Fair Deal under President Truman went so far as to seize the steel industry by asserting "inherent" powers but the Supreme Court rejected that doctrine.

Maybe the new committee doesn't intend to go as far as first reports indicate but will be wholly educational.

If it does assume sweeping authority over contract-letting, the next Congress most certainly will begin to put riders on appropriatio bills which will prevent any such "legislation" by the executive branch from becoming effective.

Squawking for Dear Life

By TRUMAN TWILL

Few persons ever claimed until recently that taxes should be fair and logical. There was, in fact, a widespread assumption that Caesar should collect what was owing to him catch-as-catch can, because the whole process was unfair in the first place.

But when Caesar tightens the screws, his victims must fight for their lives. They must demand some rights or be squeezed to death. They must demand that Caesar be fair and logical.

A widow who must scratch for a living must demand that she be given the same consideration for the expense of hiring a baby-sitter as a multi-millionaire businessman gets for entertaining a client at a night club; namely, the right to write it off her taxable income.

A family man who ends up on the short end each year with an endless series of nagging illnesses just under the arbitrary limit for tax exemption set by a crew of jug-headed politicos in Washington, D. C., must demand a sudden and drastic demonstration of intelligence. Why should he pay a tax on the cost of his bad luck if a businessman who has bad luck doesn't have to do the same on his business losses?

A college student who is trying to lift himself into a position of greater usefulness by helping to meet the cost of his education must demand that legislators in Washington permit him to do this to the limit of his ability, not to a $599.99 limit set on his annual earning power by Caesarian edict.

These are typical of inequities in federal taxation which were brought forcibly to the attention of members of the House Ways and Means Committee in recent weeks. Perhaps something will be done about them.

Perhaps in the near future something may be done about the impression among taxpayers in this republic that only the little fellows get it in the neck on close decisions; that the big fellows who don't choose to pay in full are too big to be handled.

Perhaps something may be done about an impression among taxpayers who deduce from what they read between the lines in budget reports that the basic doctrine of the federal government now has been revised to read like this: Spend and spend and collect and collect.

Perhaps something may be done about an impression made by Beardsley Ruml, who knows a little something about income taxes, that the government is collecting more money than it needs — maybe to keep taxpayers in the habit of paying more than they should.

Perhaps something may be done about the bland and mealy-mouthed assumption that taxpayers are responsible for debt but have nothing to say about the squandering that causes the debt.

When Caesar draws blood, his victims squawk. Not just the big ones with the public relations departments that squawk for a living but the ones who squawk because they're hurt where they live like widows who can't deduct the cost of baby sitters, though a salesman can deduct the cost of setting up a customer with a spree at the Stork Club.

Tax Penalty Inequities

By Edward Nellor

Is there a double standard for collecting taxes in the U.S.?

To the average taxpayer, who gets prompt and impressive attention from the Bureau of Internal Revenue when he owes a few dollars, it seems so.

On the other hand, prominent entertainment or sports figures are frequently revealed to be in hock to Uncle Sam for thousands of dollars, with no apparent lessening of their standard of living.

Some are behind in their tax payments as much as three years.

Singer Richard Haymes is one recent example of what is puzzling the man who pays his taxes promptly, or who receives prompt attention from the tax collector if he does not.

Haymes, according to the Internal Revenue Bureau, is several thousand dollars behind in his tax payments. He was still solvent enough to travel to Hawaii for a visit with Rita Hayworth, nevertheless.

A prominent figure in the sports world, former Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis, also neglected to pay his taxes for a considerable period. He wound up in court with his problem.

Actor Erroll Flynn is another who owed Uncle Sam thousands of dollars, yet he continued his global yachting travels without apparent strain on his purse.

There are several hundred others, in fact, who are delinquent in tax payments in amounts ranging from a few thousand dollars up to $500,000.

The Internal Revenue Bureau refuses to say how many or reveal the identity of those who continue to live an outwardly lush life while running far behind in their income-tax-return payments.

When an individual is identified, it usually is the result of a court action, where records are made public.

James Rivers, director of information at the Internal Revenue Bureau in Washington, said that he did not have an answer to the question of why some taxpayers seem to live a charmed life when the tax collector starts biting chunks out of the average wage earners' pay check.

He said that the collection division treats every taxpayer the same. If money is owed, collectors move in and try and get the cash any way they can. This sometimes involves court action and property seizure.

When asked why this did not apply to Hollywood stars with yachts and palatial homes, he said that first mortgages have precedence over tax collections and that most of the big wage earners are plastered with mortgage paper.

In the case of Joe Louis and other sports figures, the tax collector will place liens on purses paid to the delinquent contestant.

Colin Stam, staff director of the Joint Congressional Committee on Tax Revenue, and Russell Train, staff director of the House Ways and Means Committee, both stated that Congress does not concern itself with the enforcement of tax laws.

They are in agreement that tax legislation is designed to treat all citizens in the same fashion, and that if some taxpayers are getting preferential attention, then it is a policy of the director of internal revenue, and not Congress.

Big income - tax payers are allowed to dicker with the tax collector when a question of law is involved in tax payments. In many instances delinquent taxpayers are allowed to pay up the cash in installments.

The fact remains, however, that some Americans run up quite a bill in the tax collector's office, while others are on the receiving end of a barrage of demands when their tax returns are short a few dollars.

Not all Hollywood stars or sports figures are tardy taxpayers. Bing Crosby, for instance was forced recently to liquidate considerable of his holdings to pay estate taxes as a result of the recent death of his wife. He estimated that he owed more than a million dollars.

Music and Box Tops

By FRANK TRIPP

Things had been a mite quiet in the box top department, as they usually get in summer when folks don't lean much to letter writing. A 'box top" is a solicited fan letter, one that you ask for, like the soap opera impresarios do.

Only, if you're writing a column, you don't come right out and offer a diamond bracelet for two box tops and a dime. You get 'em for free when you need them.

It's done by stirring up the animals, so to speak. Sometimes you do it on purpose, sometimes unwittingly. This time it was unintentional, for I like peaceful summers.

LAZY AUGUST was entering smoothly when I had to go and take a poke at pompous pianists who bewilder low-brow listeners with highbrow music. That did it.

Almost all of the "box tops" contained neither dimes nor plaudits. One irate artiste addressed me, "U. R. Schmaltz," and others made reference to that gentleman of moronic musical mentality. I gather that I'm not highly regarded as a music critic.

There's no more to be said on my part, not until I need more box tops to impress my syndicate. It's always sure-fire—stepping on tender toes.

THERE ARE two or three ways to get big mail. Buy some phony gold mine stock and get on the sucker list; or write a letter to the editor criticizing labor unions, religion or art; just step on somebody's pet corn.

A common gripe aimed at the press is that it never misses a sensation but overlooks a dozen cozy ice cream socials a day.

The press has a gripe too. It's that it rarely hears from its customers unless they want something "put in" or "kept out" or to broil the editor because they don't agree with him.

WELL NOW, that's fine. Don't stop it. If a publisher should suddenly receive a flood of letters agreeing with everything his paper says, chances are he'd fire the whole staff. He'd think it was a cooked up box top shower.

And he'd be right. Because it's a common and bad habit with all of us to withhold words of praise, but seldom miss a chance to complain.

My field day wasn't a total loss however. Marnie Perry, who summers next door, pleases us with the kind of music we love and can understand, though she also is master of the kind we can't.

Here's her comeback to my attack on pianists who bore their audiences with classics that go over their heads:

"AFTER READING in your column, your pronunciamentos solemn, I'm facing, to its full extent, my musical predicament.

"No more can I play ditties classical for listeners whose tastes are jazzical; no longer can I toy with Liszt, while the audience in boredom sits—thirstin' for Gershwin.

"So, although I'd just as lief play Serg Prokofiev, or start off with Rachmaninov, I'll have to sacrifice Stravinsky, and turn to jive they play for Minsky.

"Though there's melody that balms in a lullaby by Brahms, I dare not risk the social rod by playing him or Chaminade.

"Thus I give up my practice scales, for fear of all the anguished wails of those whose tastes hew to the line of Herbert, Kern and Hammerstein.

"AT LAST I'm sensing with a shock I must not give them Johann Bach, and though Ed Grieg may be my pet, I must not give him to them yet.

"To you I yield, dear Mister Schmaltz, your lovin' 'Merry Widow Waltz'; please don't rave on ad infinitum; if you want more, I'm game—come get 'em.

"I really liked your column, and it was true."

Thanks Marnie; you ought to know.

The President has signed the bill closing the tax-law loophole under which movie stars, big-time Hollywood directors and others could escape income taxes by staying 18 months in Europe to make a picture. It was nice going while it lasted. The law made it possible and you can't blame Hollywood for taking full advantage, but it could be truly said, "Through This Loophole Passed the Most Glamorous Girls and Boys in Pictures." In fact they passed through in three dimensions.

Native Dancer needs a theme song to mark his triumphs and we suggest that as he goes to the post the band play, "Arthur Murray Taught Me Dancing in a Hurry." Eric Guerin, if he gets the usual 10 per cent, must have made a round $70,000 within a year riding this horse.

Delaware Motorist, Cleared of Charge, Takes Driving Test

Special to The Star

DELAWARE—Warren Thomas, a handicapped Delaware auto salesman, who was cleared in common pleas court recently of a traffic violation charge filed by the state highway patrol, was requested to take a driver's examination Wednesday conducted by the patrol.

Order for the examination was received from the office of R. E. Foley, state registrar of motor vehicles. Notification of the examination request received through the state patrol headquarters at Columbus did not name the official or person making the request, Thomas said. State patrol headquarters here said that complaints about drivers are received at the Columbus office and then forwarded to the Bureau of Motor Vehicles for investigation. While many requests are filed by patrolmen, the same routine procedure is followed when they are received from court officials, police officers or private citizens.

Thomas was arrested by a patrolmen for driving 70 miles an hour on Route 42 in February and was brought before Delaware Mayor M. F. Pinney. Thomas filed an affidavit charging the mayor had a prejudicial interest in the case and the case was transferred to common pleas court. The affidavit was based on the fact that the mayor would have collected costs only if Thomas was convicted. Thomas was found innocent of the speeding charge in the common pleas court where the judge ruled the state had failed to prove the speed charged was greater than was reasonable under conditions existing when the alleged violation occurred.

Reports of the driving examination were not given at the time of the test. Failure to pass the examination would mean revocation of Thomas' driving license or an order to install special equipment designed for one-arm drivers on any car he might drive.

Dog Is Wearer of The Green Down Under

SYDNEY, Australia (UP) — A dog-breeder, Stan Chessell, had never seen or heard of a green dog. Now he's got one — named "Irish," naturally.

The dog, a kelpie, was one of a litter of seven, the only one of the lot with a bright pastel green coat.

"When I first saw Irish I thought I was color blind," Chessell said.

Curious visitors who see Irish are still rubbing their eyes.

2 Trucks Damaged In Blaze at Plant

Fire caused some $500 damage to two Baker Wood Preserving Co. trucks early this morning when a blaze broke out while a plant employe was gassing them.

Firemen from the W. Center St. station were called to the plant at 6:12 a.m. and succeeded in extinguishing the blaze before serious damage resulted.

Company spokesmen said today that the two trucks were parked side by side and sparks from an undetermined source apparently set the gasoline on fire.

Firemen estimated damage at $300 but plant officials said four tires worth $400 were destroyed along with paint on the bodies and fenders of the two trucks. This was the only fire run during the last 24 hours' by Marion firemen.

Young Hardin Robbers Flee From County Jail

Special to The Star

KENTON—Two Hardin County boys, aged 12 and 14, escaped from the county jail detention room Wednesday noon shortly after lunch was served to them.

The boys had been apprehended Tuesday in Allen County and had admitted to breaking-in and robbing one business establishment in Dunkirk and one in Ada over the week end. The merchandise was recovered and the boys were being held for further questioning by local juvenile authorities.

Apparently their escape was made through a plastered wall in the rest room just off the detention room and they dug through the plaster with a hinge from the rest room door, then escaped through a bedroom in the sheriff's living quarters.

Ike To Spend Day Fishing in Trout Stream

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower put aside state problems entirely today for the first time since starting his Colorado vacation and arranged to fish a Colorado Rockies trout stream.

The President had been scheduled to confer with Dr. Gabriel Hauge, his advisor on economic affairs, but the summer White House said the meeting was pushed up to yesterday afternoon so the chief executive could have today free.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower advanced the appointment so he could take "the first full holiday" since he came to Denver from Washington Aug.8.

Up to now, the President has been combining business with pleasure each day—a round of conferences in the morning, with golf or trout fishing in the afternoon.

Today, the President decided on a full day of trout fishing in the north fork of the South Platte River at the ranch of an old Denver friend, Bal F. Swan.

2 Ohioans on List Of Prisoner Dead

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army today identified 43 more Americans reported by the Communists to have died in captivity.

With the new list, the Pentagon has made public the names of 837 U.S. service men so described in the brief reports submitted by the enemy.

In notifying the families of the men, the Pentagon has emphasized its inability to verify the Red reports and has assured all next of kin that continuing and intensive efforts will be made to establish the facts.

The two Ohioans on today's lists both Army personnel:

Cpl. Charles E. Johnson, son of Mr and Mrs. Walter Johnson, Rt. 2, Ironton.

Pfc. Andrew F. Petho, son of Mrs. Julia Petho, 7258 Wentworth Ave., Cleveland.

HIS MISSION COMPLETED in the jungles of Malaya, a British tracker dog is hoisted to a naval helicopter which will carry him to "rest quarters." This canine breed, specially trained to rout hit-and-run Communist guerillas, has been used for years in Malayan warfare. They are now being regularly flown in and out by 'copter.

Communists Say Ohio Prisoner Escaped Camp

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department today made public the names of 12 more Americans reported by the Communists to have escaped from enemy prison camps in the far east. One of the 12 was from Ohio.

The new list left 17 to be identified of the 147 said to have escaped but about whom the Reds have given no further information and whose actual fate is unknown to the U. S. authorities.

The Ohioan on the list is Pfc. Adelbert Blue, son of Mrs. Marcella Lewis, box 261-C, Posttown Rd., Rt. 10, Dayton.

Sugar Millionaire Held on Suspicion Of Beating Ex-Wife

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Sugar heir Adolph Spreckels II was jailed last night on suspicion of beating his fifth former wife, actress Kay Williams, so severely that she had to be taken to a hospital.

The beating took place Wednesday but the story didn't leak out until detectives booked the 41-year-old millionaire. Neighbors said Miss Williams, 36, suffered head and body injuries when knocked to the ground by blows from her own shoe.

The actress, who divorced Spreckels last year on grounds of physical abuse, leased an apartment here to be near her children, Joan and Adolph III, who are staying with their father in his nearby Balboa Island home, friends said.

Spreckels was booked on suspicion of felonious assault with intent to commit great bodily harm.

Spreckels was released on $10,000 bond after spending several hours in the Orange County jail.

Movie Actor John Payne To Be Married 3rd Time

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Movie actor John Payne is going to be married for the third time late next month.

He and Alexandra Beryl Curtis, Long Beach divorcee, obtained a license yesterday. Payne said he is 41; she is 30. It will be her third marriage, too.

Because he is one of the busiest actors in Hollywood, Payne won't be able to crowd in the marriage ceremony until after his present picture is completed. The couple plan to be wed in Santa Barbara, Calif.

Miss Helen Kiess of Columbus, a public relations advisor for the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., spoke to members of the Kiwanis Club on the topic, "Telephone Courtesy For the Business Establishment," at their weekly meeting Thursday in Hotel Harding.

She told the Kiwanis members how to correctly answer and talk over a telephone. The incoming business telephone call is the important one, she said, and then she told the Kiwanis members a few rules to follow while speaking over a phone. Answer promptly after the first ring, she said, and don't hold the phone to stop its ringing while speaking to someone else. Miss Kiess said to have your mouth directly in front of the phone while talking was the correct way to use the telephone and she said not to smoke while using the phone.

She told the audience they could do mucn in personal contact but over the phone it was the conversation that counted. She didn't recommend saying hello or good morning but said to state the name of business and identify the department or answer with your name. In stopping a conversation, she said not to say hold the line or wait a moment but to tell the party calling wat you are doing. She told the group how to correctly lay the phone down and told them to be sure the party was still there upon returning. She said invariably the caller is more polite than the person called.

Val Berg of the Ohio General Telephone Co., program chairman for the meeting, arranged for the talk by Miss Kiess.

Ray Reidenbaugh, head of this year's Kiwanis apple sale, announced it would be held Saturday, Sept. 26. Proceeds go to the underprivileged childrens fund.

Guests at the meeting were Robert Fesenmeyer, Mary Ann Downes, Jack Nelson, William Lanick, James Woods Jr., Carl J. Diener, Wayne Kuhn, all of Marion, and Chet Dalzell of Decatur, Ind., John Williams of New York City and Ralph Thomas of Pittsburgh, Pa.

POW's

bore more reports of Red brutality and mistreatment, especially against Allied airmen.

The Reds were "death against American aviators" said Cpl. Phillip E. Rogers of Denver. He said one Navy flier from the U. S. Carrier Leyte was stripped to a light shirt and summer pants, and forced to remain outside in 25 below zero weather.

Another repatriate told of a mentally-ill American soldier tied to a tree outside the hospital at Camp 1 and left there until he died.

"I think they tied him to that tree and let him die there because they just did not want to take proper care of him," said Cpl. Melvin R. Heath of Indianapolis.

Others told of beatings for minor infractions of prison camp rules, imprisonment in dungeons and small cages for men who opposed Communist indoctrination, lack of food and medical care, and small groups of POWs who collaborated with the Reds and informed against their fellow Americans.

Cpl. Gildo Rodriguez of New York City said he saw Communists machine gun five truck-loads of wounded American POWs just after they had been captured.

He said he thought it possible the Reds were confused and thought they were firing at Allied vehicles because they riddled the drivers' cabs as well as the canvas-covered truck bodies.

Another American said 50 Americans were "blown to bits or buried alive" when American planes attacked an unmarked area where the Communists collected POWs before moving them north to prison camps.

Cpl. Donald W. Manuel of Racine, Ohio, said the Reds knew the area of Korean huts was under daily attack as a military target by Allied planes, but refused to mark the area as a POW camp.

The group repatriated Thursday included the highest-ranking Allied officer yet turned over—South Korean Col, Lim Ik Soon, assistant division commander of the ROK Capitol Division. He was captured in mid-July.

Meanwhile, the troop transport Marine Adder loaded American repatriates at Inchon. It was scheduled to leave Saturday morning for the two-week trip to San Francisco with 374 Americans aboard.

Riot

precautions and debris through windows and at guards.

No explanation for the outbreak could be had from Squier. One guard said, however, that there had been trouble during the day. He would not explain further.

Most of the inmates at the reformatory are younger offenders in their 20s. Older and more hardened criminals are kept in the Washington State Penitentiary.

Inmates rioting in the cell block tore up plumbing, broke windows and destroyed furnishings. They, too, howled and cursed.

Then, several hours after the first outbreak at 7 p.m. (PST), a group of the men on the grounds tried to break through the gate. Guards, almost shoulder to shoulder atop the 30 foot high walls and armed with everything from riot guns to tommyguns, opened fire.

Four men fell. One was mortally wounded. Another, struck by a ricocheting bullet which passed through his head right behind his eyes, lay on the ground screaming.

Doctors said later he would be forever sightless.

The other two were not wounded seriously.

Then, the law officers started moving into the cell block and onto the grounds. They were greeted with a barrage of debris and curses. But this subsided quickly.

The inmates on the grounds huddled in circles as midnight came, stark figures under the pitiless glare of the prison's bright floodlights. They started bonfires to ward off the night chill, using wood which littered the grounds from one end to another.

"We're in no hurry to get them into cells," the warden said. "We have plenty of time."

Sultan Named For Morocco

Deposed Man's Uncle Proclaimed New Ruler

PARIS (AP) — Moulay Mohammed Ben Arafa was proclaimed as the new Sultan of Morocco today.

Moroccans received calmly the news that Arafa, the 64-year-old uncle of Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef, who was deposed by France as Sultan yesterday and sent into exile on Corsica, is to move into the ruler's palace at Rabat.

Apparently the threat of civil war between the deposed Sultan's Nationalistic followers and the Berber countrymen who rallied behind Pasha Thami El Glaoui of Marrakech had receded.

No outbreaks of violence were reported, either in French Morocco or Tangier, the international zone.

But France maintained an iron vigil over her North African protectorate. Heavy guards were alert in all Moroccan cities.

A French government spokesman announced last night that Arafa, a wealthy resident of Fez, would succeed to the throne as Morocco's temporal and religious ruler.

The senior religious council of Morocco, a tribunal of Ulemas or religious scholars, confirmed the selection today in a meeting at Fez.

Next will come Arafa's solemn enthronement at Rabat. The time of this ceremony has not been set.

Shah

wait for the nation to say what should be done with him."

The ex-Premier's political adviser, Ali Shayegan, and two former Cabinet ministers, surrendered with him. There was no word of Mossadegh's chief henchman, fiery former Foreign Minister Hossein Fatemi. Earlier reports, never confirmed, said the mob tore him to pieces Wednesday.

Mossadegh and his three associates were held in rooms on the top floor of the Tehran officers club. Tanks and troops guarded the building.

News of Mossadegh's surrender galvanized the young Shah in Rome. He impatiently awaited the arrival of the chartered airliner, which was forced back to Amsterdam for a two-hour delay by engine trouble.

Another Delay

Another delay developed at the Rome airport when KLM officials for a time refused to transport a dozen newsmen invited by the Shah to accompany the flight because they did not have transit visas for Iraq. Despite angry expostulations from the Shah and threats from an aide to cut off KLM's landing privileges in Tehran, the Dutch executives contended non-visa passengers might result in Iraqi authorities seizing their plane.

On orders from KLM headquarters from Amsterdam, however, the Rome officials finally permitted the newsmen aboard. Among them was this correspondent and AP photographer James Pringle.

Russia

against the the threat of Soviet aggression.

What impact this may make upon international relations is still a subject of pure speculation, except that it seems certain to bring new demands for disarmament and atomic weapons bans—without any evidence that East and West can get together on the central issue of how to disarm.

There may be strong new pressures from small nations to find and secure neutrality for themselves in the hope that a possible conflict of the titans would somehow pass them by.

U. S. experts noted that while the Moscow announcement referred to the explosion of a hydrogen bomb, it stated that the explosion was made with experimental airn. They were inclined therefore to equate the first known Russian hydrogen blast to experimentation in thermonuclear reactions which the United States ran at Eniwetok in the Pacific in 1951, and again last November.

From this comparison, U. S. experts said it was reasonably safe to say that the United States was two years ahead of the Soviets in work on hydrogen reactions.

The Russians are assumed here to have a number, perhaps relatively small, of atomic bombs and the know-how at least of the hydrogen bomb device. Assuming that they have the industrial resources, they should now be able to go forward steadily in the production of weapons of both types or either, a choice lying in the fact that much material which goes into a hydrogen bomb could be used instead to make several uranium bombs.

As policy makers here see it, it will not be necessary for the Russians to make as many bombs as the United States in order to establish a kind of balance with this country. It will merely be necessary for the Soviets to have enough bombs, coupled with the capacity to deliver them, to be able to do this country vast damage should war come.

Country Club Dedicates Pool Sunday

TO BE DEDICATED AT ceremonies Sunday afternoon is the new Marion Country Club swimming pool. This general view of the pool shows its relationship to the club house shown in the background. Standing in the foreground, talking to a swimmer emerging from the pool is Tom Parker, pool supervisor. At the extreme right immediately in front of the bath-house, is the children's wading pool.

LIFE GUARDS CONNIE WARD, kneeling in the water, and Frankie Knapp, holding the beach ball, are shown with several youngsters in the wading pool. This pool for the younger set of the Country Club is immediately to one side of the swimming pool which is visible in the background. The filter room in the bath-house is reportedly one of the most modern in the state.

Ceremonies and program marking the dedication of the new Marion Country Club swimming pool are scheduled to start at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

Presiding at the program will be Jack Kinter, Country Club president, and giving the history behind the construction of the pool will be Jack Weis, former president and now chairman of the swimming pool committee.

In keeping with the sesquicentennial celebration of the state this year, a bathing beauty contest will determine winners on the basis of the oldest costumes modeled by the contestants.

Presenting an exhibition of their internationally acclaimed skills during the main portion of the program will be members of the Ohio State University swimming team led by Coach Mike Peppe.

Included in this group will be Jerry Harrison, national 10 meter platform diving champion Dick Cleveland, world medley 300 yard free style champion; Bob Clotworthy, world diving champion; Yoshi Oyakawa, Olympic diving champion; and Ford Kono, Olympic 1,500 meter free style champion.

Events of the dedication are open to members of the Country Club and their guests.

Beating Investigation Too Late To Save Girl, but Sister Lives

CLEVELAND (AP)—For 6-year-old Celia Barger, the investigation came too late. She will be buried tomorrow, described by police as the victim of beatings at the hands of an aunt and uncle hired to care for her.

But for Celia's older sister, Helen, 8, it may be the start of a new life. Helen, also showing the marks of beatings, was reunited with her father yesterday, her tears showing how glad she was to see him.

The investigation started Wednesday when Celia's aunt, Mrs. Mary Barger, 31, took the child's bruised and lifeless body to a hospital. The aunt has been charged with first - degree manslaughter. Her husband, Matthew, a 31-year-old bricklayer, was charged with aiding and abetting a manslaughter. A conviction on either charge carries a maximum penalty of 1-20 years in prison.

Sgt. John Barger, father of the two girls, was called here from Stewart Air Force Base in Smyrna, Tenn., after Celia's death. Kept busy by police questions about his brother and sister-in-law, he was unable to visit Helen until yesterday afternoon.

When he walked into her temporary quarters in a welfare institution, the girl cried out and threw herself in his arms, with tears streaming down her face.

The sergeant said he had been sending the Bargers $200 a month to board the children. He never knew until Wednesday, he said, that anything was wrong.

Sergeant Barger left the girls with the Bargers after he divorced their mother, Sally, last March. A native of Mingo Junction, near Steubenville, he has flown 144 missions in Korea.

TRANSFER, LADY?

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP) — Mrs. Shirley Carey spotted a woman who wasn't quite sure just what method of transportation she was using. The woman got on a hospital elevator—and handed the elevator operator a dime. "Oh, I gave you my streetcar fare," she exclaimed a minute later.

UP BUT NOT OVER. The observation car of the Great Northern Railway passenger train peeks through the St. Paul, Minn., depot train shed roof after ramming a track-end barrier (foreground) that proved its worth though overturned. The train had stopped early to discharge passengers, then started to roll backward again. No one was injured. James Springer of Memphis, Tenn., a passenger, looks at damage.

Committee, said "we must assume" the Soviet claim of having tested a type of H-bomb is true, but Rep. Hinshaw (R-Calif), a member of the group, said he doesn't believe Russia has such a bomb yet.

Wants Atomic Control

Wiley, in New York as a delegate to the United Nations General Assembly, said Russia and the United States should try anew to reach a basis for agreement on control of atomic weapons and world disarmament.

The correspondence with Strauss was made public by the senator's office here.

Wiley, Senate Foreign Relations Committee chairman, had written Strauss to ask his views on vulnerability of this country to possible atomic attack, saying many people live in "a fool's paradise" believing that possession of more atomic bombs would prevent an enemy attack.

"The destructiveness of atomic weapons is such that no one with any feeling of responsibility for the nation's welfare and his own and his family's safety can afford to dismiss, or ignore, or minimize the impact," Strauss replied.

Strauss said he agreed with Wiley that "The public generally should know everything that can be revealed that does not compromise military information and that concerns the nature and threat of atomic warfare." He added:

"The public should also have the most thorough familiarity with civilian defense requirements, and the apathy which has characterized this area in past years must be dispelled."

Old Age Benefits Going To 3,000,000 Persons

Paul D. Snider, manager of the Marion Social Security Office, announced today the number of persons in the country receiving old age insurance payments has passed the 3,000,000 mark. Over 1,000 of these are in Marion.

The number of retired workers on the benefit rolls has increased by almost one million during the last two years. Those receiving benefits include those over 65, dependents, widows, and widowers of retired workers.

The average benefits being paid to the retired workers is a little over $50 monthly. The average age of those getting benefits in 1952 was 68.6 years for men and 68.2 years for women. The monthly rate at the end of June for the entire nation was $233 million.

In Marion, the social security office is located at 127 W. Church St. and is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Henry Grunewald Overcome by Gas

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP)—A man police identified as Henry Grunewald of Washington, D. C., was found overcome by gas fumes with a woman in an apartment early today.

Police Lt. Michael Mannion said papers in the man's wallet gave the address of Henry (The Dutchman) Grunewald, who figured prominently in a congressional inquiry into influence peddling.

Police said Grunewald, 63, and Mrs. Ann Anderson, 46, were found overcome by gas fumes from two open jets of a kitchen stove, on which food had been cooking.

Both were reported in good condition at Jersey City Medical Center today. The wife of Grunewald (The Dutchman) was en route there to see the hospitalized man.

Lodge has maintained that the Korean armistice agreement is clear in its provisions that the "two sides" of the Korean war should choose their own representatives. On this basis, Lodge opposed a Soviet proposal to invite Red China and North Korea to attend the Assembly debates.

Proposal Favored

British and Canadian sources said they favored the new Indian proposal as a wise procedural move. Both Britain and Canada are urging India's participation in the Korean peace parley.

Lodge previously had stated only that he would not vote for India, leaving open the question whether this meant a negative vote or the less-emphatic abstention. His statement of outright opposition last night was designed to attract wavering members to his side.

The United States has agreed to support a proposal recommending Russia's participation in the conference provided the two Communist combatants want her. Adoption of this proposal is assured, but Russia has not yet indicated whether she would attend on the basis of the resolution.

Demands Parliament Be Called

The Catholic union, CFTC, today restated its demand that Parliament be called back next week to consider the labor situation. The steering committee of the National Assembly was to meet later to decide whether to summon Parliament from its summer vacation. Informed sources said they believed the committee would decide against such a call.

But observers warned that plenty of trouble may still lie ahead for Laniel.

The Communist-led General Confederation of Labor (CGT), left out of the negotiations, had not yet indicated any end to its walkout. The CGT controls the bulk of the railroad workers and transportation officials said the lines could operate only on a reduced scale without its members.

axle-mile tax on cargo trucks. The levy will apply to trucks with three or more axles according to the miles the vehicles travel.

Statute requires the council to meet within 30 days after appointment and name a chairman and secretary. The state highway director must present a highway classification plan before Oct. 1 for council review. The plan must include roads in the inter-state highway system. After approving a plan, the council and highway director will decide on construction priorities.

McCarthy Would Threaten Chinese

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis) said last night the United States should tell Chinese Communists to return every American prisoner "or we will wipe your accursed Communist leaders who are responsible from the face of the earth."

The nation also should "notify the world that on the day Red China walks into the United Nations, the United States walks out," the former Marine captain told an audience of 600 at a Marine Corps League banquet.

He slapped at Great Britain as an ally "who has recently insisted that Red China rather than Chiang Kai-Shek's government be a member of the United Nations" and "bragged that she is stepping up her shipments to Red China—shipment of the sinews of war to the enemy that has been killing the sons of Britain as well as the sons of America."

"This is the sort of thing which makes it easier to understand the statement recently made by that great American—no longer with us—Bob Taft, when he said we might ultimately have to 'go it alone,'" McCarthy said.

Ike May Hear Report of Trip By Stevenson

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai Stevenson, home after a world tour of nearly six months, apparently will give President Eisenhower a report on his global tour.

The defeated Democratic nominee for President in 1952 was asked by reporters if he had been invited to consult with the President.

"Before I left," Stevenson said, "he (Eisenhower) asked me to see him when I came home. Every American responds to his President's requests."

The former governor of Illinois, who visited some 30 countries since last March 1, discussed his world tour — and politics — with reporters in news conferences in New York and Chicago yesterday.

He told the New York newsmen he didn't know whether he would be a presidential candidate in 1956. He also told them that Russia appears to be in retreat in the cold war and that the danger of a major shooting conflict has eased for the present.

In Chicago, when he was asked if he considered himself "head of the Democratic party," Stevenson smiled and said: "I don't know," adding he would be active in politics "to the extent that circumstances permit."

Eichelberger, 22, of Bucyrus, who drove into the rear of the Clawson car when it slowed for another car which was attempting to turn off the road.

Bruce Stevens sustained a cut on the head and Sandra had a bad bruise on the right side of the face. They were taken to the hospital for treatment in the Clawson car. Eichelberger was arrested by patrolmen for following too closely and was cited to appear in Municipal Court Saturday.

In another accident investigated by the patrol, Lyle N. Harrison, 17, of New Bloomington, lost control of his car which swerved off the left side of the road and went back across to the right side where it crashed into an Ohio Edison utility pole. Harrison said a car in front of him had attempted a left turn and that his car and the unidentified car had collided. Harrison had cuts on the face, head and right hand, but was not treated at the time. His car had considerable damage to the top, right rear fender, right front side and tire. No wrecker was needed.

Woman Injured in City

A Marion woman was slightly injured in one of five accidents reported today by city police.

The woman, Mrs. Rachel Dall, of 346 Avondale Ave., was taken to City Hospital Thursday after an accident at the intersection of two alleys behind the Brunswick Cafe, 147 N. Main St. She was treated and released.

Drivers of the cars involved in the accident were Franklin G. Taylor, 22, of 346 Avondale Ave. and Jimmie Edward Harris, 19, of 450 N. Main St. Mrs. Dall was a passenger in Taylor's car.

The cars collided at 7:51 p.m. Taylor's car was badly damaged and had to be towed to a garage. The car driven by Harris was damaged in the left side, but he was able to drive it after the crash.

Taylor told police he was going about 10 miles an hour at the time of the accident. Harris said he was driving about 20 miles an hour.

Sherman E. Jones of 489 Polk St. was arrested Thursday after he hit a parked car at the corner of Bartram Ave. and Silver St. at 8:34 p.m. Jones was charged with operating a car without sufficient brakes after he struck the car owned by Thomas G. Gruber of Columbus.

Gruber's car was damaged and Jones was cited to appear in Municipal Court today.

In another accident Thursday afternoon, Mary Daum of Toledo struck a stopped truck in front of 126 Oak St. at 5:15 p.m. The truck was stopped for motor trouble and the woman was unable to avoid hitting it. Her car was damaged in the right side. No damage was reported to the truck which was owned by the Wolverine Truck Co. of Detroit, Mich.

Driver of the truck was C. Cassise who did not give his address or age to police.

At 2:05 Thursday afternoon, Earl S. Scheerer, 53, of 274 S. High St. damaged the right rear fender of his car when he backed it into a telephone pole at 667 E. Center St.

In the other accident Thursday afternoon, Mrs. V. F. Watts of 465 Hartford St. backed into a parked automobile at the corner of Adams and Hartford St., causing damage to the left rear fender of the parked car.

The parked car was owned by Mrs. Anne Pletcher of 474 Van Buren St. Mrs. Watts told police she was backing onto Adams St. from Hartford St., when she struck the other car.

Local Man Called For Testimony in Murder Hearing

A Marion man, Paul V. Roope, testified Thursday in the second degree murder trial in Cincinnati against the defendant, Roy Clinton Turner, 35, of Martin, Ky.

Turner is charged with the fatal beating of a 23-year-old expectant mother, Mrs. Betty Smith Fredericks of Emporium, Pa., who was found dead in a Cincinnati hotel room.

Roope testified yesterday in Cincinnati criminal court that he had previously seen Turner kick and strike the woman in Middletown, O. Middletown officers also testified as to a previous beating and said Turner pleaded guilty to a disorderly conduct charge there last spring after Mrs. Fredericks was confined in a hospital with injuries.

Turner testified in his own behalf for 45 minutes yesterday. He has pleaded innocent, saying he was drunk and blacked out.

U.N. Commission Unsuccessful

No Progress Made on Bomb Controls

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—If this story had a title it would be: A tale of no progress, or how history repeats itself.

In January 1946, five months after the first atomic bomb had been dropped on Hiroshima, the General Assembly of the brand new United Nations held its first meeting.

At once it voted to create a commission to find an answer to the question: how to get all nations to agree to outlaw the bomb in such a way that no one could cheat?

By Sept. 23, 1949 the commission, which included the United States and Russia, had met more than 200 times without finding a solution. On that date President Truman had an important announcement.

The Russians, he said, had produced an atomic explosion. He said this development emphasized the necessity for "truly effective, enforceable international control of atomic energy."

Four years passed, a period in which it seemed likely the Russians might have been able to build a stockpile of several hundred bombs and the United States, since it had a head start, might have been able to store thousands.

In order to be sure it stayed ahead of the Russians the United States, in those four years, began work on the hydrogen bomb. The Russians apparently were doing the same, although they didn't say so.

In those same four years the U.N. commission couldn't find a formula for outlawing atomic weapons on which Russia and the West could agree.

Yesterday, just a little less than four years after Truman announced they had produced an atomic explosion, the Russians announced they had exploded a kind of hydrogen bomb.

Immediately the United States Atomic Energy Commission confirmed the Russian claim to the extent of indicating the Russians had managed an explosion of a hydrogen nature, similar to earlier American tests.

And yesterday, just a few hours after these statements by Russia and the United States, the U.N. Disarmament Commission held a brief session in New York and adopted its annual report.

In the seven years since January 1946, had the commission found a way to control atomic weapons and a formula for general disarmament? No. The commission just wanted to report its failure to agree.

The commission, in fact, had not met since October 1952, because of a deadlock between the West and Russia. For one thing, Russia opposed the West's plan for checking on a nation's atomic development.

The commission, the report said, did not meet because no new plans had been offered since October a year ago.

And yesterday—just as on the day in 1949 when Truman told the world of Russia's atomic explosion and called for renewed efforts to control the bomb—Sen. Wiley, Wisconsin Republican, made a plea.

Wiley, chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee now attending the General Assembly meeting in New York, proposed action by the American and Russian governments to control atomic power.

Andrei Vishinsky, the Soviet delegate, was reported to have said yesterday that he may have something "in time," which means he'll suggest a Russian disarmament plan in the Assembly in September.

Since the West and Russia haven't been able yet to find the answer to the question raised in the United Nations seven years ago, there's no reason to expect they'll find one any time soon.

Morrow County Reports Eighth Case of Polio

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD—Number of polio cases in Morrow County this year reached eight this week with the reporting of three more cases according to Harold McCamman, chairman of the Morrow County Chapter of the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation.

The number exceeds the total for last year when six were reported.

The youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Busler Jr., of Iberia, was admitted to Children's Hospital last Wednesday. The parents were told that the case is considered mild.

Eighth case reported to the county health department was that of Judy Baldwin, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Baldwin of northern Washington Township. She was taken to Children's Hospital Saturday and has since been released. She is reported to have her left leg paralyzed.

Three cases have been reported in Mt. Gilead, one in Edison and one near Chesterville in addition to the latest case.

The marquis, former escort of Princess Margaret, was best man at the wedding of British Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip.

Milk Exposed to Light Loses Taste and Vitamins

NEW YORK (AP)—Two scientists say bottled milk exposed to daylight for half an hour or more gets an off-taste "sunlight flavor" and loses vitamins.

Stuart Patton and Donald V. Josephson of the Pennsylvania Agricultural Experiment Station, State College, Pa., reported their findings yesterday in the magazine, Science.

Tests showed, they said, that the different taste resulted from exposure to light alone, not heat, and can happen in winter or summer.

These Days

By George Sokolsky

The Korean War was fought to establish a principle, namely, that military aggression is not tolerable in the affairs of nations.

SOKOLSKY

The North Koreans regarded their combat as civil war and not as aggression; it is for this reason that they have taken the position that the United States invaded Korea. That view could have been acceptable up to November 1950 when Communist China intervened as an aggressor. That eliminated any possibility of regarding the conflict as a civil war.

-:-

THE COMMUNIST Chinese aggression was war. They used the device which the Russians had employed in the Spanish Civil War, namely, that their huge armies, well - organized, admirably provisioned, were volunteers.

Yet, the fact is that the North Koreans had been defeated by Gen. MacArthur before the Chinese Communists came in. That defeat had been so complete that MacArthur expected the war to be over soon.

Today, the Chinese Communists are in possession of North Korea and nothing in the truce agreement requires them to leave that country.

For this reason, it is possible to say that the United Nations lost the war, since aggression, instead of being punished, is rewarded.

In fact, the British and Canadians, accepting the Chinese Communists as victors, propose that they be given a seat in the United Nations.

WHAT GREATER reward could come to them for aggression?

The political conference was to have been made up of nations which had participated in the Korean War — 16 of them on our side; two of them on the North Korean side.

No provision was made for neutrals or secret co-belligerents to be present.

Soviet Russia was a secret co-belligerent, providing arms, planes, tanks and other supplies.

Maintaining a world - wide propaganda in favor of North Korea and against the United States; Russia all the while was spreading widely, through its international Communist organizations, the lie that we employed germ warfare, and was producing diversionary efforts in Europe and Asia designed to prevent a victorious war.

-:-

FURTHERMORE, as should be known to the American and British specialists, the Soviet world is a unit in its relations with non-Communist countries.

This "One World" group of nations is directed by the Kremlin.

Therefore, the North Korean War and the Chinese Communist aggression could not have occurred without the consent and diection of the Kremlin. Therefore, Soviet Russia was a secret co-belligerent.

However, Soviet Russia demands a seat at the political conference as one of the United Nations members.

This was fought by Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., as historically incorrect, as immoral, since it rewards aggression, as damaging to the prestige of the United Nations.

The British and Canadians favor the Russian cause on the grounds that if Russia sat on the other side of the table, namely, among the Chinese and Korean Communists, it would be an admission that the Russians are belligerents. Well, what are they?

LODGE'S arguments were sound and correct. That they have not prevailed is due to the intellectual incapacity of the State Department to stand up to the British when they are wrong.

If a war of aggression can result in the aggressors being rewarded, and if members of the United Nations can support a war against the United Nations, then it is clear beyond doubt that the United Nations must go the way of the League of Nations after the Japanese invaded Manchuria in 1931 and the Italians invaded Ethiopia in 1935.

After aggression was permitted to stand unpunished, the League ceased to have meaning and World War II became inevitable.

THE APPEASEMENT of Communist China and Soviet Russia by Great Britain is designed not only to increase trade for the Commonwealth countries, but also to keep India within the Commonwealth.

Any student of Asiatic problems must recognize that India is in peril of a Communist revolution which will occur after the Chinese Communists have taken Indochina and Thailand.

The peril to world peace is still in Asia.

The current British policies do not limit this peril; in fact, the strengthening of the position of Communist China must ultimately weaken the position of Great Britain in Asia.

There is one factor in this situation which needs mention because the British believe it to be true, namely, that at some time the Chinese Communists and Soviet Russia will split.

They apparently believe that such a split will save the world.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Those giant TWA constellations which fly you swiftly over jagged snow - capped peaks, sizzling deserts and rolling oceans can bring the continents together with the greatest of ease — but they can't really move you from one world into another, any longer.

RIESEL

Wherever you go, it is the same — A struggle between the "right" and the "left."

In Europe and the Near East, it's violent. It seems like only hours ago just before I left France that I watched Parisian police shoot down demonstrators and saw a nation paralyzed by politicalized labor.

-:-

IN VIRTUALLY every other contentinental nation, the labor chiefs are the powers with whom the governments have to deal either behind the scenes or, publicly, with the political parties which labor controls.

Once back home I find the same struggle going on between the "conservatives" and those who believe that labor as such should have political power in our American governing processes.

Inside labor, it's the story of the moment, and of the era.

The score of this struggle between conservative "bread and butter" unionists and the philosophical unionists led by Walter Reuther, David Dubinsky and George Meany will tell us whether President Eisenhower will be re-elected, whether the Republicans will retain a weakly held Congress next year and whether there will be, in effect, a nameless labor party throwing its millions in money and manpower behind the returning Adlai Stevenson and his colleague, Harry Truman.

The "right" wing-"left" wing fight is on right now as labor prepares to build its political machine in the wake of Stevenson's "world report", soon to be broadcast and televised nationally and Harry Truman's Labor Day speech on the platform of a joint CIO-AFL rally in Detroit.

NATURALLY the top strategists of the Republican party have been directly encouraging the split inside labor. The Republican High Command has been working with the conservative leaders such as John Lewis, and David McDonald who istill are talking about fashioning one giant union of coal and steel workers, Dave Beck, head of the Teamsters' Union, and Maurice Hutcheson of the great empire of Carpenters against Reuther, Meany and Dubinsky.

President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon, and one or two others in the White House have been in direct contact with the conservative "rebels."

Like a disciplined soldier, whenever his strategy team told him, President Eisenhower opened the White House to, and dined with, the conservative laborites.

He has appointed some of them to government agencies which will make vital Republican policy.

-:-

THE PRESIDENT and his strategy board, run, it seems to me, by Dick Nixon, have moved on every front to split those militant AFL-CIO leaders who are, in effect, now re-creating a New Deal political party.

This is the one hope the anti-Republicans have of unseating the GOP and its leader in '54 and '56.

Each of the conservatives was accorded the same gracious treatment by Ike. They dined or conferred with him.

First there was the early visit of the conservative, but bombastic AFL Sailors' leader, Harry Lundeberg—the same fellow who seized the microphone at the California AFL political conference last year to shout futilely for Eisenhower.

Then ame the dynamic, powerful Teamsters chief, David Beck. Next John Lewis and finally the successor to Phil Murray in the CIO Steelworkers' Union, David McDonald. After each visit most of these men conferred with each other.

DEFINITELY they discussed their mutual enmity for Walter Reuther.

Then they decided they'd be more effective, for the moment, working inside the AFL and CIO—which Meany and Reuther apparently were actually ready to merge this year.

Meanwhile, everybody had been overlooking the powerful AFL Carpenters Brotherhood, lead by the father and son team, Big Bill and Maurice E. Hutheson.

Old Hutch had been an Eisenhower delegate from Indiana to the Republican nominating convention last year, it should be recalled.

THE CARPENTERS were staunch Republican campaigners during the election. And they were furious when they noted that the AFL, under the militant George Meany, actually was being led into a merger with CIO, which they considered the political arm of Adlai Stevenson and Harry Truman.

The carpenters believe that in such a merger, Reuther will become the political director of a combined labor movement of 14,000,000 workers.

So the Hutchesons moved out of the AFL. Lewis hit the road on a personal organizing junket. Beck is talking constantly with other influential labor leaders.

McDonald accepted a high Republican post at a moment when other CIO officials were being ignored by Ike.

The political war is on between the conservative and militant labor forces—and it will continue until the votes are counted after the next Eisenhower - Stevenson election campaign.

Tray Preferred

By Inez Robb

It is scarcely possible these days to tell who's on second in the Arab world without consulting the daily score card.

INEZ ROBB

Farouk is already in the showers, the Sultan of Morocco may join him in a few moments and the Shah of Iran just got out after a four - day dampening

My interest in the fate of the Sultan is more than passing since I own an unusually handsome coffee table directly descended from the sultan's nemesis, El Glaoui, the powerful shah of Marrakesh, one of the dream cities of the world.

EL GLAOUI seems determined to get rid of the sultan. If all I heard of the shah in Africa during World War II is true, then if I were the sultan I would simply turn in my uniform and get it over with.

The southern half of Morocco is El Glaoui's province; there the sultan "reigns" but it is the shah who rules. And no one is sultan for long except by El Glaoui's permission.

Many American service men in Morocco during the African campaign met and were entertained by El Glaoui.

I never had the luck to meet or even see the foxy old campaigner. But I did have the pleasure of meeting his favorite daughter, a woman as beautiful as any houri of the Arabian Nights.

I was permitted to meet her, I feel certain, because her handsome Arab husband had been educated at the American University of Beirut.

SOME OF our "dangerous" ideas about personal freedom had apparently rubbed off on him, and his wife was not as strictly cloistered as other aristocratic Arabian women.

El Glaoui had provided his favorite daughter with an education that would have done any woman proud and was most extraordinary for an Arab woman. She was not only beautiful, but witty and gay—and dressed in British tweeds!

Eventually she arranged a diffa, or dinner, for me in her large, modern home in Casablanca. It was truly a feast for the Gods.

Six of us ate in Arab fashion, seated on our feet, at a round table about 40 inches in diameter.

The top of the table was obviously a huge tray of pure copper, elaborately hand - worked by Arab artisans in an Arab design interwoven with fleur de lis.

IT WAS extraordinarily handsome but the U. S. Army had briefed me in Arab etiquette. So I knew enough not to admire it openly, or my host and hostess would insist on giving it to me. But my looks must have been covetous as the hostess explained that it was old and had been a gift from her father.

When I left the dinner, the huge tray was put into the car with me! As I started to protest vociferously, the American army officer on each side of me kicked my skins black and blue.

"Take it!" one of them ordered.

"It would be an unthinkable insult to refuse it. And besides, she really wants you to have it."

-:-

SO THERE I was in Casablanca in the middle of a war with a copper tray that weighed only slightly less than I, and certain that the Army would never fly both me and it home! And bless me, if two days later I didn't run smack into the American vice-president of a big shipping firm who said he would send my tray home the next time one of his ships came in.

Six months later, when I was convinced my property was at the bottom of the sea, a strange man called one day, said he was Capt. so-and-so, and would I please call for my tray.

The Shah of Marrakesh is a tough old party, and I am glad I am not the Sultan of Morocco.

But I am also glad I have the tray.

$21,358,459 DISTRIBUTED

COLUBBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes yesterday distributed $21,358,459 for local government operations to Ohio cities, viliages, counties and townships. He said it was the largest single distribution of such funds in recent years. It came from allocation of levies on intangibles and a double distribution of gasoline taxes to counties and townships.

U.S. To Loan Navy Carrier to France

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The U. S. Navy carrier Belleau Wood is being taken out of mothballs at the San Francisco naval shipyard and will be loaned to the French government next month, the Navy said yesterday.

The flattop won 11 battle stars in Pacific war action.

A part of the French crew to take over the ship alresdy is here.

The 14,000-ton carrier is being loaned to the French under congressional authority, in furtherance of mutual defense pacts. The craft had a crew of 1,400 during its service in the Pacific in World War II.

POLICE MAJOR RETIRES

CINCINNATI (AP)—Maj. Rudolph H. Wehking, police inspector of Cincinnati, lays aside his uniform today after more than 38 years of active police duty. He is the last policeman in the department to hold the rank of major, a title which was abolished several years ago, although those holding it were permitted to keep it.

Forest Fire in Canada Appears Under Control

FORESTVILLE, Que. (AP)—More than 150 women and children evacuated last Sunday from the forest-fire-threatened village of Ste. Therese headed home today.

The main blaze, which started Aug. 7 and charred 165 square miles of timberland, has made little progress the past day or two, woodsmen said. They would not give assurance that it was completely under control but said villages in the area did not appear to be in immediate danger.

Two Ste. Therese men, Kelly Bouchard, 22, and Wellie Tremblay, 26, were sentenced last night to a month in jail each for unauthorized travel in the forest while a ban was in effect. Police who took them into custody Wednesday night said they were "important witnesses" in a case of suspected arson.

BOY ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — David Herman Perry, 9-year-old Columbus polio victim who enjoyed playing cowboy, was killed yesterday when he accidentally hanged himself from a garage rafter. Police said he probably fell off an overturned bushel basket while playing with a nylon clothesline noose around his neck.

Supposed To Be in Romania

Location of Cominform Headquarters Unknown

BUCHAREST (AP)—Where is the headquarters of the Cominform, the world-spanning, secret propaganda agency of the Kremlin that transmits Moscow's revolutionary orders?

Where is Ana Pauker?

These are two of the current mysteries about Communist Romania to which American correspondents sought answers when invited here for the first time in five years.

The Cominform's powerful general staff is supposed to be in this Romanian capital. From Bucharest instructions allegedly go out to Red agents the world over.

We asked a Romanian official where it was. He looked shocked at our audacity and replied: "I really have no idea."

We questioned Western diplomats. One pointed out a heavily guarded ring of big residences in northern Bucharest. Entry to the area is stopped by armed militia. He said it might be there.

Another diplomat said no, that was probably the headquarters of the Central Committee of the Romanian Communist party. The Cominform, he said, is rumored to be quartered in the country club of a former oil company at Lake Snagov.

All the diplomats really knew was that the second meeting of the world's top Communist bosses met in the late King Carol's mountainside summer palace in Sinaia in 1949, and that certain secret meetings of the Cominform's staff may take place in the English-style country house of a former princess at Posada, in the Carpathian foothills.

Bushy-haired, Jewish-born Ana Pauker, once the world's most powerful woman Communist and Romania's foreign minister, used to live in a big house on Bucharest's fashionable Chausse Kisselef. More than a year ago she was bounced as foreign minister and as a member of the Politburo. Although a lifelong friend of Stalin's, she was accused of "secret meetings" against the Red state.

A Romanian who claimed to know told us she was sent to the Kremlin after she was kicked out of the government. There were rumors she was arrested or had died.

After her dismissal, diplomats said, she traveled around Bucharest in a big car, visited government offices and was in the Romanian Parliament last December. She was seen on Bucharest's streets in May.

Asked specifically, Grigtre Preoteasa, assistant foreign minister, told U. S. correspondents all the rumors were "fantasy and idle talk."

"She is in Bucharest and is no longer a member of the government." That was all he would say.

Might Glut Market

Iran's Oil Could Cause Headache for Industry

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Iran's oil—should it start flowing again into world trade routes—might prove as embarrassing to the oil industry as its stoppage proved in world diplomatic circles.

Internationally operating oil companies have long ago increased production to more than make up for the loss of Iran's oil. They are talking about ways to handle a possible glut of world petroleum supplies. Iran's oil would just add to their distribution and quota problems.

And it would be less than welcome to independent oil producers in America, who are seeing their own production cut back because of big supplies — and, they contend, because of imports of oil from the Middle East.

Iran's oil won't be flowing again any time soon, of course. Even if the new government gets a firm hold on the country, there still would be long and ticklish negotiations with England and the United States before the old Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. properties could be put back into operation. And oilmen here are far from sure the revolt in Iran will stick of that it spells out such an outcome.

Before Mossadegh seized the oil fields and the Abadan refinery, Anglo-Iranian was exporting 150,000 barrels of crude oil daily and some 450,000 barrels of refined products daily from its holdings there, valued at 1½ billion dollars.

In the two years since Iran's oil industry closed down, the company has expanded its production in other lands and has now regained the loss completely.

Oil output in other Middle Eastern countries was also expanded greatly. Much of it goes to new refineries in Europe. Some of it has been coming to the refineries on the Eastern Seaboard of the United States.

If Iran began shipping again, American and other companies operating in the Middle East might have the delicate problem of cutting output in these lands — thus paring their revenues and possibly stirring up resentment.

Or they might try shipping more here. But the Independent Petroleum Association of America has been urging congress to limit oil imports to 10 per cent of the domestic demand, and could be expected to fight any increase of imports from the Middle East.

Undulant fever in man may be caused by the same germs that cause Bang's disease in cattle.

Boar, Formerly Owned Here, Illinois Champion

Marion County's reputation in the field of hog raising was given a boost recently when a Poland China boar bred and owned formerly by Robert Everett of New Bloomington was Illinois State Fair championship. The animal was sold last fall to Eugene Dugan and Sons of Storm Lake, Ia. He was judged Ohio State Fair champion last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett and children, Beverly Ann, John, and Nancy Louise, and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Rhodes of Mt. Victory who were on a trip west at the time, attended the Illinois Fair. They visited friends in that state, and before returning home stopped at the Cadle Tabernacle in Indianapolis, Ind.

New Employment Record Established

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Records for employment, number of employers and size of payrolls in Ohio were shattered in 1952.

The Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reports some 83,000 employers paid $9,294,000,000 to an average of 2,396,000 workers. Only employers subject to the Ohio Unemployment act — those with three or more workers each—were included.

Only decreases were in the mining and quarrying industries, where employment and payrolls were down as result of a labor-management dispute during the summer of 1952.

Galion Horsewoman Set For Events at State Fair

Special to The Star

GALION — Galion's best known equestrienne, Miss Alma Shumaker, will be featured in the pageant, "Seventeenth Star," depicting the history of Ohio in the Sesquicentennial observance at the Ohio State Fair.

She is busy this week directing work on the painting and polishing of three relic vehicles, and the fine grooming of seven horses, all to be seen in the pageant. Miss Shumaker, whose love for horses dates back to her childhood days, spent on a farm near here, spends much of her leisure hours riding, as well as judging, at horse shows in Michigan, Ohio, and Pennsylvania. She also gives riding lessons and directs horseshows. Horses are her hobby, but managing a women's apparel store in downtown Galion is her job. She is taking her two weeks' vacation this year in Columbus where she will be in rehearsal for three nights before the Sesquicentennial pageant opens at the fair for a ten-night run.

Already an occupant of Miss Shumaker's prized old Landeau, (stage-coach type carriage) on several occasions, Governor Frank Lausche is expected to ride again in this vehicle at the fair. Manufacture of the Landeau, popular in the 18th century, was started in 1838. It is a carriage of three distinct vehicles, being converted into a closed carriage, a bariuche (half-headed carriage), and one that is entirely open. This week it is being repainted and varnished, in addition to being equipped with new rubber on the wheels. It will be drawn by two Albino horses. Donald Mease of Galion will be the driver for the vehicle. The Landeau was purchased by Miss Shumaker some time ago at Hinsdale, Ill.

A second vehicle to make the trip to Columbus is an old phaeton, often described as an elegant buggy. It has been painted brown, and has yellow wheels. It will be drawn by a pongee cream-colored Ysabella, a horse strain popular during Queen Isabella's day. He is one of few in this part of the country. Miss Shumaker secured him from Mexico when he was a yearling.

A surrey with white fringe on the top is the third vehicle that Miss Shumaker is taking to Columbus. It will be used in the Gay Nineties scene, and will be drawn by Bald Eagle.

The seven horses to make the trip to Columbus, leaving here Sunday, represent four generations. They are a pinto mare, Mischief, grandmother of the group, which Miss Shumaker once rode from Cleveland to Providence, R. I., (an eight weeks' trip) of 1,200 miles when she was an advanced currier for Gene Autry and his show. Cameo Eagle, the daughter of Mischief, White Eagle, son of Cameo Eagle, (grandson of Mischief) and Bald Eagle and Bell Eagle, Mischief's great grandchildren. Two stable mates, Red Eagle, a beautiful chestnut stallion, and the pongee-colored Ysabella, comprise the group of seven.

Included in the equipment that Miss Shumaker will use is a rare old side saddle.

Five of the horses will be trucked to Columbus by Elmer McClurg of near Galion, and the two stallions will be taken in a horse trailer. The three vehicles will be hauled on one of John Eldred's loy boy trucks.

Charles Beegle, a Galion boy now in service, who has ridden with Miss Shumaker many times, is home on a 21-day leave to ride and drive in the pageant.

The horses have been groomed to perfection—even to brilliantine on their manes and tails. Their hoofs have been shampooed and lacquered with nail polish in shades that match the carriages.

In short, it looks like there will be more thrills ahead for Miss Shumaker in Columbus, as the committee has planned to use horses and riders in different events, on the streets and at hotels, besides the pageant. The pageant's director is the well-known Adrian Awan, a Californian who commutes between Hollywood and New York City.

MISS SHUMAKER'S PRIZED OLD LANDEAU which will play an important part in the "Seventeenth Star" at the Ohio Sesquicentennial observance at the State Fair, is shown above as it appeared in the centennial celebration at Nevada last fall. Passengers in the back seat were Gov. Lausche and the mayor of Nevada with Miss Shumaker and driver Don Mease in the front seat.

Congressmen Set To Rough It On Field Trip to Belgian Congo

By HARRY SNYDER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A projected field trip to the Belgian Congo drew a small group of lawmakers here today, each equipped with "clothing for rough, out-of-doors wear."

The congressmen, members of the Senate-House Committee on Atomic Energy, began assembling for a month-long inspection trip on which they leave Sunday.

A committee aide told newsmen the lawmakers were advised to pack heavy duty shoes and clothing for their visit to Africa's gold mines and uranium extracting plants.

"We'll take our working clothes with us," said Rep. Jenkins (R-Ohio). "We're not going to call on the kings and queens. We're going to do some work in trying to acquaint ourselves with this gigantic program."

The party will include three or four Atomic Energy Commission officials, as well as Sens. Cordon (R-Ore) and Russell (D-Ga), and Reps. Cole (R-NY), Hinshaw (R-Calif), Van Zandt (R-Pa), Holifield (D-Calif) and Price (D-Ill). Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) will join them in England.

Hickenlooper, vice chairman of the committee, went to Europe on other business last week.

The group will get the VIP (very important people) treatment from Belgian and South African government officials en route to the famed gold fields.

Then, a committee staff member said, they will head for the out-of-doors life.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Life in Puppet Land

Television has gone from its puppet phase into its panel phase, but some of the puppets seem to be here to stay, among them Bil (stet) and Cora Baird's ingenious marionettes. Although the Bairds' last TV series, "The Whistling Wizard," went off the air a year ago, a fact that is still lamented in many quarters, they've been popping up as guests on everybody else's show in the interim and now they're back on CBS-RV with the Bil Baird Show (Tuesdays and Thursdays, 11:15 a.m.).

J. CROSBY

Now that nearly everybody else has had a go at being a disk jockey — Stokowski, Ilka Chase, Pinza — the puppets are cutting in on the racket. On the new Baird show, they mouth (that's a verb, Junior) to popular records.

YOU'LL HEAR Eddie Fisher singing "I'm Walking Behind You," but on the screen it's a long-eared, sad - eyed dog crying his heart out, not Eddie. The dog is sitting behind his cat sweetheart in wedding veil who is being married to another dog. If you take a dim view of the current musical lamentations, this can be pretty funny stuff.

Last week the Bairds cooked up a fine production number for Spike Jones's "Hawaiian War Chant." A puppet girl danced a remarkable hula, and some semi - abstract characters who were nothing more than masks and straw bodies appeared to be singing those foolish sounds in the last half of the record.

The fact that anybody making those noises ought to look that way made it hilarious. Some records lend themselves to this sort of nonsense better than others, though, and occasionally a number is just plain dull. (I'm writing a soap opera called "Just Plain Dull").

THE BAIRDS DREAM up this stuff in a converted Manhattan stable where they live and work. There are puppets of all kinds hanging from the ceiling even in the living quarters, some in dust covers, some hanging naked as part of the decor. One, a slinky, grim-faced, African ancer, appeared to Bil on the wallpaper while he was under morphine following an operation.

Bil designs all the puppets, and likes to do the sculpture and painting when he has time. There are 250 hours of work in a single puppet. Each one is constructed differently, depending on what its function will be. Dancers have ball and socket hips; a fiddle player has a swivel waist so he can lean and sway as he plays. Most of them are marionettes, but for certain kinds of action (like swinging a baseball bat), the Bairds use hand puppets.

THEY HAVE STRONG feelings about the puppets. Bil used a girl puppet last week who had been "unemployed," as he calls it, for 12 years. He changed her head and put her into the show before he realized that he had never liked her with that old head.

After many tries, Bil recently succeeded in making a ballerina that really appeals to Cora, a former actress and frustrated ballerina. This puppet doesn't do anything quite right. Her legs are just a bit wrong in each position she tries, and her arms are awkward. Cora loves her. (Try this out on your corner subway psychiatrist. Ten to one he'll say Cora was jealous of those other puppet ballerinas).

WHEN THE BAIRDS get an idea for a pupet they build it, even if they have no immediate use for it. They have a tremendous stockpile of puppets — some 800 —and a dozen under construction—as well as scenery, props and costumes.

Bil likes to fool around with abstracts, like his "space messenger," a combination rocket ship and fat bug, and he plans to use them on the disk jockey show. This show is for adults, incidentally. "The Whistling Wizard" was for children. It's still their favorite and they're sure it will be back.

THE SARA QUADRUPLETS of Australia help each other get fixed up for their third birthday party, celebrated at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Holmes, in Chiswick, England. They are Alison, Philip, Judith and Mark Sara, children of an Australian airman and his British bride. They came from Bellingdon, New South Wales, for a vacation visit to Great Britain.

Badts, Baett, DeBatz Attend Bates Reunion

COHASSET, Mass. (AP)—When the Bates Family Association, Inc., held a reunion last night they relaxed the rules somewhat.

Also invited were persons named Badts, Baet, Baett, Bat, Bate, Batt, De Bats, De Batz and La Bate.

Bulls Worth $100,000 Killed When Barn Burns

FAYETTEVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Flames swept through a livestock barn near here killing 15 registered Hereford bulls valued at $100,000 by their owner.

P. T. Holloway, a widely known livestock breeder, said he discovered the blaze when he returned home late yesterday. He said he led one $30,000 bull to safety.

The animals were being groomed for showing at the Lincoln County fair next month.

State's Sales Tax Collections Ahead Of Last Year's Rate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State sales tax collections are running ahead of last year's rate, State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy reported today.

Tracy said receipts for the first 39 days of the 1953 fiscal year were $20,355,614.96. This is $4,229,355.44 more than receipts at the same time a year ago he said.

The state treasurer said receipts for the week ending Aug. 8 exceeded three million dollars for the second consecutive time. He said this reflects an up-swing in sales volumes for 1953 which could set a record for a 12-month period if continued.

Tracy said comparative receipts for food, appliances, automotive, furniture, building, chain stores, general and miscellaneous classifications are running ahead of the 1952 fiscal year rate.

Ohio Oil Company Drills Deepest Well in World

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — The world's deepest oil well is in California now.

Ohio Oil Company's exploratory hole in the Paloma field, 17 miles southeast of here, reached a depth exceeding the previous mark of 20,521 feet, established four years ago by the Superior Oil Co. in Sublette County, Wyoming.

A spokesman indicated the well is in lower Miocene era formation and probably will be deepened to reach Eocene sands, where gologists believe new oil bearing sands will be discovered. The well is known as KCLA 27-4.

Drilling began Oct. 23, 1951, and so far approximately 1½ million dollars has been invested.

Brothers Among Those Enlisting for Service

Two New Bloomington brothers who re-enlisted in the service were among six enlistments during the past week at the local U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station here, Staff Sergeant James LeRow announced.

The brothers were Neil and Lowell Chapman. Neil, who had been in the Navy for eight years, and Lowell, who had served in the Army four years, enlisted in the regular Air Force.

Neil was sent to Wright Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton and Lowell to Ft. Knox, Ky., both for re-assignment.

Robert W. Cole of near Marion and Ora Francis Payne of near Richwood both enlisted in the Air Force and were sent to Sampson Air Force Base, N. Y. Kenneth E. Pletcher of near Galion and John T. Gandee of Cardington enlisted in the regular Army and were sent to Ft. Knox, Ky.

Sgt. LeRow announced that high school graduates could now apply for flight training in the Air Force. For further information, they are asked to contact him at the recruiting office in the courthouse.

SUBWAY APPROVED

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cuyahoga County's regional planning commission has approved a proposal for construction of a downtown subway loop which would cost an estimated 33½ million dollars.

Bible Words to Live by

PHILIPPIANS 4:13 – "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me."

When I was younger, this verse had little meaning for me; for I felt that I could pretty much do all things for myself, if I put my mind to it. Certainly, when I became an adult, I would be able to do all things by the strength of my right arm and the wisdom of my brain.

But now I know that I cannot do all things by myself: in some things I just do not have the physical strength; in others, I do not have the faith or the courage. But this inability to do all things "on my own" does not fill me with hopelessness and despair. For many things are not needful for me to do. Someone else can do them a lot better. It doesn't concern me, now, that I cannot lift pianos like a furniture-mover; it doesn't concern me, now, that I cannot build bridges, like an engineer; it doesn't concern me, now, that I cannot climb to the summit of Mt. Everest, like a professional mountain-climber. These things do not concern me for I do not feel that they are a part of God's plan for me.

I have complete faith that I can do all things that are needful for me to do – all things that God intends me to do – as I submit myself in humility, to the God of Jesus Christ. When I have a problem, I submit it to Him, in prayer – not attempting to dictate the answer to my prayer, but merely placing the problem in His hands and leaving it there. He always guides me into what experience proves is His answer – the best answer – to my problem; and with His guidance, comes the strength and courage to carry it out. I have proven throughout my life that "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me."

Young Thug Takes $35, Leaves $3,200 in Rings

HOUSTON (AP)—A teenager who punched a 50-year-old woman in the stomach and escaped with her purse wanted cash instead of jewelry.

The purse, with three rings valued at $3,200, was found in a ditch. The youth had taken $33 in cash.

Mrs. Byrdine Harrison told police yesterday a teenager struck her and gabbed her purse while she was walking on a Houston street.

Lemon Wins 17th

Indians Open Long Home Stand, Play Browns Twice

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, still holding third place because they won in Detroit yesterday, open a 21 - game home stand tonight with a double header against the St. Louis Browns.

The twi-night contests, with Bob Feller and Dave Hoskins pitching for the Tribe against Harry Brecheen and Dick Littlefield, are the first of three twin-bills with the Browns in the long stand here. The second comes up on Sunday and the third on Labor Day.

Yesterday's 13-7 victory, which mathematically eliminated the Detroit Tigers, gave the Tribe a record of 10 won and 11 lost in the last 21 games played. It followed two defeats by the seventh-placers. Harry Simpson and Jim Hegan hit homers off Ray Scarborough in a six-run Tribe rally in the sixth and also got two singles apiece for a third of Cleveland's 18 hits.

Bob Lemon, clouted for 10 hits and seven runs before he was yanked in the seventh, needed all the heavy hitting behind him to come through with his 17th victory against 12 losses.

Hegan drove in four runs and Simpson three—each getting his homer with a runner on base. Al Rosen, who had a triple and two singles, knocked in three more to raise his league-leading runs-batted-in production to 105.

Toledo Maintains Lead in AA Chase

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bert Thiel, making his first start in a month for Toledo, pitched and batted the Sox to a 7-2 victory over Indianapolis last night.

The win continued Toledo's game-and-a-half edge on the runnerup Louisville Colonels, who beat Kansas City, 2-0.

In other games, St. Paul downed Minneapolis, 4-1, and Charleston defeated Columbus, 5-4.

Thiel socked a three-run double and Bill Queen smacked a three-run homer to account for all but one of Toledo's runs. The Sox pitcher allowed eight hits.

Last Ohio Boy Ousted From Caddie Action

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Four young golfers from Oklahoma, New York, Pennsylvania and Kansas today play the semi-final round of the National Caddie Tournament.

Jerry Pittman, Tulsa, Okla.; Franic Malara, White Plains, N. Y.; John Chimienti, Harrisburg, Pa., and Dave Smith, Manhattan, Kans. will battle for the top prize—a $1,500 college scholarship. They are the survivors of a field of 61 teen-agers.

Pittman yesterday defeated Lloyd Syron, Pontiac, Mich., who was co-medalist in the qualifier, 2 up, after downing Harold Blake, Gardena, Calif., 3 and 1.

Malara, co-medalist with Syron, defeated Bob Brokaw, Columbus, Ohio, 9 and 7, and Jack Miller, Ashland, Ohio, 6 and 5.

Chimienti, third in the qualifier, defeated Connie Marcotte, Topeka, Kan., 1 up and Earl Chandler Cincinnati, 2 and 1.

Smith eliminated Larry Snyder, Athens, Ohio, and Dick Burgoon, Harrisburg, Pa., by 4 and 3 scores.

The 36-hole finals will be played tomorow.

Veeck Receives Cool Reception In Coast Cities

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bill Veeck, seeking a new home for his floundering St. Louis Browns, got the cold shoulder from northern California baseball men and some sports writers yesterday.

And Veeck, who has been trying to sell the Browns and perhaps the Philadelphia Athletics in a two-team American League westward-ho deal, didn't sound enthusiastic, either.

"Neither city (San Francisco or Los Angeles) is close to a major league franchise now," said Veeck. "That opinion, I believe, will change. Just when I don't know, but it is not an immediate possibility."

Veeck huddled with three official representatives of San Francisco. He conferred with Los Angeles officials earlier this week.

Official San Francisco reaction wasn't reported.

But two Pacific Coast League club owners, Eddie Mulligan of Sacramento and C. M. (Brick) Laws of Oakland, said they would demand heavy financial compensation—in the courts if necessary—if a major league club is brought to San Francisco.

"You can't put an established baseball organization out of business just by saying 'get out; we're taking over'," said Mulligan.

Even sports editors who have clamored for major league ball scoffed.

Wrote Bill Leiser of the San Francisco Chronicle:

"The chances are Mr. Veeck is stirring up a little national publicity in the hope it will excite Kansas City and Baltimore and cause these cities to make better offers."

Oserved Jack McDonald of the San Francisco Call-Bulletin:

"Let L. A. have the bedraggled Browns. Then, when San Francisco is ready to shoot, it can aim for something higher than somebody else's basement."

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching—Ed Lopat, New York Yankees, won his 13th game against two losses and his 11th straight over Washington, beating the Senators, 7-0.

Batting—Jim Hegan, Cleveland Indians, drove in four runs with a home run and two singles as the Indians broke a four-game losing streak with a 13-7 deicision over Detroit.

Professional Girl Baseball Teams To Appear in Marion

Two professional girls' baseball teams will play a three-game series in Marion Aug. 28, 29 and 30. The teams, the Grand Rapids Chicks and the Muskegon Belles, are members of the American Girls Baseball League.

Proceeds of the games will go to the Marion Baseball for Boys Commission. Muskegon has been having park trouble and in trying to complete the home schedule selected Marion. The games played in Marion will go into the league standings. The money will be used in carrying out the work of the commission.

Two new Little League baseball diamonds are to be layed out between the Lincoln Park leftfield wall and Copeland Ave. These will be adjacent to each other and one will be lighted. These diamonds will be put into use if possible next year. The Lincoln Park diamond will be used by the Pony Leaguers and a new league for which plans are now under way for boys 15 and 16 years old. These are planned projects for the Marion Baseball for Boys Commission.

With the Grand Rapids team will be several all-time greats of the American Girls League. The left fielder, Doris Satterfield, has made every all-star team picked in the league.

OSU Gridders To Begin Drills Labor Day With 24 Veterans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State football team, facing its toughest schedule in history, starts practice Labor Day with 24 lettermen returning.

Coach Woody Hayes said yesterday he is counting on a veteran line to protect a speedy backfield, geared for air power. Among the returnees will be John Borton, Buckeye passing record holder, who'll call signals for Hayes' split-T and varied offenses.

The brain trust issued this tentative forward wall lineup for the opening game Sept. 26 against Indiana at Columbus: Dean Dugger and co-captain Bob Joslin, ends; Dick Hilinski and co - captain George Jacoby, tackles; Mike Takacs and Jim Reichenbach guards and Jerry Krisher, center.

In the backfield probably will be Borton; Howard (Hopalong) Cassady and Jerry Harkrader at the halves, and Bobby Watkins at full.

Hayes said he will hold drills twice daily until Sept. 11 and single workouts until Sept. 25.

After Indiana the Buckeyes take on California, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Northwestern, Michigan State, Purdue and Michigan.

37 Report for Drills With Mt. Gilead Team

MT. GILEAD — Thirty - seven candidates for the Mt. Gilead High School football team started practice, Thursday, according to Coach Les Grace. At least five more candidates are expected to report.

Grace said a scrimmage with Bellville has been set for Aug. 28, at Mt. Gilead. Mt. Gilead plays its first game Sept. 11, in the Middle Buckeye conference at Mt. Gilead.

PARENTS OF A SON

GALION — Announcement has been received here of the birth of a son, Tuesday, at the Naval Hospital, Norfolk, Va., to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rhinebolt. The mother is the former Jean Tucker of Galion.

Woody Stephens, trainer of Blue Man, apparent 3-year-old turf champion, rode his first winner as a jockey at Hialeah on Jan. 15, 1931 on a horse called Directly.

Grid Practice Gets Under Way At Marysville

The Marysville High School Monarchs will open football practice Thursday with ten lettermen from last year's championship squad returning. Initial meeting of the team was held Tuesday when uniforms were issued.

The 1952 Monarchs lost only to London and Delaware Willis in eight games and this year will play a nine-game schedule plus a preview at Hilliards on Sept. 11. Grove City and Worthington will take part in this event along with the host school and Marysville.

Most of the returning letter winners have gained weight and coach Robert Lewis has high hopes for this year with only a few replacements needed in vital spots.

Lettermen returning include: John Fox, end; Dick Bump, Larry Easton, Jerry Beasecker and John Clegg, tackles; Larry Stump, guard; Dick Miller, center; Dick Orahood, Dick Shearer, and John DeGood, backs.

Jim DeGood, spark of the 1952 team, graduated, and his replacement is the biggest problem facing Coach Lewis. DeGood's running and passing from the split "T" and double wing quarterback post was the Monarch's biggest threat.

The Marysville High School football schedule follows: Sept. 18, Delaware Willis; Sept. 25, at Richwood; Oct. 2, at Hilliards; Oct. 9, at London; Oct. 16, Westerville; Oct. 23, Worthington; Oct. 29, Grove City; Nov. 6, at Bellefontaine; Nov. 13, Oak Hill.

Play-Off Set for Sept. 3

In Industrial League Strife In Industrial League

Marion Power Shovel captured the second round of the Industrial League number one at Garfield Park Thursday by defeating Huber 13-3 as Osco ruined the Depot's bid for a tie with a 6-5 defeat. The Shovel crew now have a record of six wins and no losses with one game remaining while the Engineer Depot, Osco and Erie A. A. remain tied for second with a four and two record each. The Shovel and Marion Industries; winners of the first round; will clash two weeks from Thursday in a play-off to determine the Industrial League number one representative team in the Little World Series.

The Shovel scored all 13 runs in the first three innings on a total of nine hits. Bob Higgins hit a home run in the second frame with one man on to lead the Shovel hitters. Dwight Wilcox gave up only one hit, with one man out in the final inning. R. Peters reached Wilcox for a single after six and one third innings to drive in Poorman and Carwile who had reached sacks on walks.

Osco aided the Shovel's cause by dumping the Engineer Depot out of the race. Holding second place before last night's game with a 4-1 record, the Depot succumbed to the five hit pitching of Jess Harris. Osco wrapped up the game in the fifth frame when they scored four runs on three hits. The Depot final inning rally fell short of tieing-up the game. Guy Lewis came out of retirement to hurl for the Depot Thursday.

The Erie A. A. defeated Marion Industries 8-6 in the only other game played. Jimmy Kunkle spread eight hits effectively for the winning Erie nine. In the only inning where the Industries clustered more than one hit they unloaded for a total of three singles and four of their six runs. This burst came in the sixth frame with the Erie holding a 6-1 lead.

Eddie Sawyer Said in Line For Cincy Post

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs pulled into town today for the beginner of a three-game series with St. Louis, still shrugging off reports that Rogers Hornsby's days are numbered as manager.

The latest rumor was that Eddie Sawyer, ex-manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, would take over the pilot's job next season.

But Gabe Paul, general manager and vice president of the club, stated flatly in Washington:

"Rogers Hornsby is still our manager. There's been 100 guys named. Rog has been fired 1,000 times. . . .but when a new manager is named, we'll make an announcement."

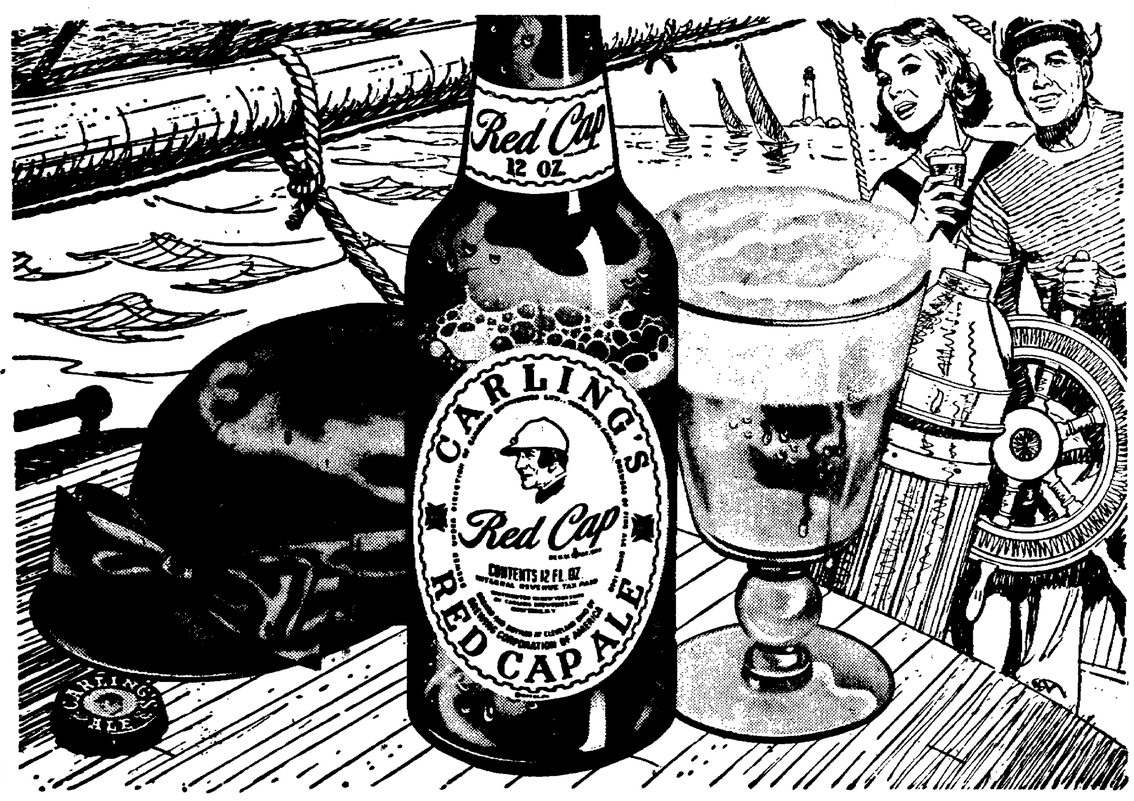
Better Than Beer?



A very different brew you'll want to try!

BETTER THAN BEER? TRY CARLING'S RED CAP ALE AND SEE!

At Carling's we make both beer and ale—and both brews have millions of fans. But Carling's Red Cap Ale is quite unlike all other ales—and more and more people are telling us it gives them more pleasure than any beer. They say they find it light and dry as the smoothest beer . . . yet with that extra flavor—that "heart" only a fine ale can have. They call it the "Light-hearted" ale. Tonight, why not see if you agree with those who like it even better than beer?

Tent Services Resume With Guest Pastor

Rev. Mark L. Mitchell, Youngstown evangelist, native of Marion, will be guest preacher for the next two weeks at the tent services sponsored here by the Maranatha Bible Church at Garfield Park.

Monday through Thursday of the Marion County fair, next week, he will speak on the radio at headquarters of Station WMRN on the fairgrounds, at 3 p.m. In addition to his regular schedule, he will be heard at seveal meetings arranged for workers at Marion factory shops and at open air services in the city, Rev. Earl L. Holliday, Maranatha Church pastor, stated.

REV. MARK L. MITCHELL

At the park each night he will speak at 7:45, and at services at 2:30 p.m. and 7:30 on Sundays. Having been a pastor a number of years, he is now giving full time to evangelistic work as a "Bible teaching type of Gospel preacher." His messages will include "The Salvation of Infants," "Stoning Jesus," "The Most Wonderful Walk Ever Taken," "The Tragedy of the Empty Seat," "The Greatest Liar and His Lies," and "A Look Into Heaven."

Robert Stanger of Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, Ill., is accordionist, soloist, youth worker, and in charge of music for all the meetings. Local residents taking part in the musical part of the services will be Vern Griffith, Gloyd Dearth, Miss Barbara Newsome, and Mrs. Avalyn Fogle.

A guest soloist will be Rev. George Zinn of Monico, Wis., known as 'the Swiss tenor." The tent is equipped with loud speakers so that people sitting in the park area may hear the programs. All the services are open to the public, it was stated.

Monday night at 8, a religious drama, "Noah's Ark," will be presented by Mrs. Florence Beausay and a group from the Upper Sandusky Bible Church. Each Saturday night, the special youth meeting will include a film on Korea.

Glaring Lights Blamed For Marionite's Crash

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — A Marionite, Ray E. Lytell of 361 Davids St., drove his car into the rear of another auto on Route 4, eight miles north of Bucyrus, at 1:30 a.m. Thursday after lights from an oncoming truck blinded both drivers.

Driver of the other car, Norman Oder of Sandusky, told the Crawford County sheriff's department that headlights of an oncoming truck blinded him and caused him to pull over to the side of the road and stop. His car was then hit in the rear by the Lytell auto when Lytell was blinded by the truck lights and was unable to see the stopped Oder car. The Marion car then careened across the highway, through a fence and crashed into a field. Neither of the drivers was injured.

Two persons were arrested Thursday as Police Chief Tom Coon began a program to crack down on those people who fail to pay parking ticket fines. The two were Mrs. Ruth E. Stone of 406 Lee St. and John F. Williams of 624 Mary St.

Mrs. Stone was fined $5 and costs in Municipal Court. Williams will appear in court today. Both were arrested on warrants signed by Coon.

Denver Fire Destroys 250 Slabs of Bacon

DENVER (AP)—The smell of sizzling bacon, covered northern Denver last night as more than 250 slabs of the breakfast standby went up in smoke.

A $15,000 fire swept through the K.&B. Packing Company's smoke house. Also destroyed was the automatic control which regulated the amount of fumes that should normally smoke a ham.

LEGAL NOTICE

The unknown heirs, legatees, devisees, administrators, executors and assigns of Deborah Rupp, deceased; Ida A. Winson, deceased, and Joseph H. Winson, her husband, deceased; May B. Smeltzer, formerly May B. Adams, deceased, and William Smeltzer, her husband, deceased; Catherine Folk, deceased, and Harvey Folk, her husband, deceased; Cyrus Rupp, deceased; Wesley Rupp, deceased, and Maggie Rupp, his wife, deceased; Jacob D. Rupp, deceased, and Leonard M. Harmon, deceased, will take notice that on the 12th day of August, 1953, Irvin C. Knickel, Robert E. Orr and Pauline L. Orr filed their petition in the Common Pleas Court of Marion County, Ohio, in Case No. 32081, against the above named parties and others, alleging that the defendants named therein claim an interest in the following described real estate, to-wit:

Situated in the County of Marion, in the State of Ohio, and in the Township of Prospect and bounded and described as follows:

Being in Section 3, Township 7, Range 20 United States Military Lands, founded and described as follows: Commencing at a stone on corner of Lots 6, 7, 8 and 9. Thence south 3 degrees west one hundred twenty three and one-half (123½) feet to a stone on a post in Lot Line 7 and 8. Thence West two hundred six and five twelfths (206 5/12) feet to a post. Thence south three degrees west 200 7/12 feet to a post in center of township road. Thence south 82½ degrees east 206 5/12 feet, to a post in center of township road and to a lot line 7 and 8. Thence north 3 degrees East 223 3/12 feet to a place of beginning.

Excepting from the foregoing described premises the following described lands:

Commencing at a stone on a post at the north east corner of the above described land; thence west 152 11/12 feet to a post, beginning at this post; thence west 53½ feet to a post, and the north east corner of Joseph Petty One Acre Lot. Thence south 3 degrees west 200 7/12 feet to an iron post in center of Township road. Thence south 82½ degrees East 53 8/12 feet to an iron post in center of said road. Thence north 3 degrees East 205 11/12 feet to a place of beginning. Containing after the exception three-fourths (¾) of an acre of land.

Said petition further alleges that plaintiffs are the owners of and are in possession of said real estate, and that the interest claimed by said defendants is unfounded and without right and constitutes a cloud upon plaintiffs' title to said real estate.

The prayer of the petition is that the defendants named be required to set forth the nature of their claim, that said adverse claim of defendants be determined and declared null and void; that said defendants be forever enjoined from asserting said claim; that the plaintiff, Irvin C. Knickel, be adjudged the owner of the West one-half of said real estate, and that the plaintiffs, Robert E. Orr and Pauline L. Orr, be adjudged the owners of the East one-half of said real estate, and their title thereto be quieted, and for all other just and equitable relief.

The defendants named above are required to answer on or before the 24th day of October, 1953.
